

Recognizing the Occult Invasion Into Your Church

Over 4,000 churches have fallen to this powerful invasion of “New Age Christianity”. There are several thousand false evangelists spreading this movement from church to church across America, posing as an “End Days Holy Spirit Revival”. Too many Christians have given up their eternal salvation to blindly follow these miracle working demons. This is the Great Falling Away of believers in the last days foretold by Jesus. After studying this movement for ten years, I wrote this book to teach how to identify these powerful false evangelists and to prevent it from spreading into your church.

AN OCCULT INVASION INTO THE CHURCH FORETOLD IN THE BIBLE?

The experience shared with you in this book has been gained through ten years of studying this rapidly growing cult. I have always enjoyed traveling around and attending conferences here and there. Back around 2004, I began seeing that occult and New Age practices were being taught at some of these Christian conferences. I knew this to be true because I had gotten heavily involved in the occult early on in life, starting at age 14. By age 17, I had read Anton LaVey's Satanic Bible cover to cover two times. By age 19, I had joined an international organization of witchcraft and immersed myself in studying their rituals dedicated to specific demon princes, such as Baphomet, Tubal-Cain, Boaz, Machaben, and Adonai. These are the specific high ranking demons that oversee occult-based false religions. These spirits are the top administrators in very highly organized and well structured armies of hundreds of thousands of demons.

We gave these demons permission to oversee all of our affairs and to bless our lives in return for our loyalty to these evil spirits. I had attended just about every occult class in the tri-state area that I could find. I studied Theosophy, Eckankar, Freemasonry, DeMolay, Rosicrucianism, Reiki, Clairvoyance, EST (The Forum), Rosicrucians, Silva Mind Control, Transcendental Meditation, tarot cards, telepathy, séances, hypnotism, ouija boards, palm reading, kundalini energy, creative visualization, channeling, chanting, energy manipulation, astral projection, spirit guides, past life regression, ufology, martial arts, yoga, and others. In those days, we were quite open about admitting that these activities were empowered by demons. We knew it and we accepted it. We yearned for their power and hungered for deeper teachings. We knowingly agreed to trade a "blessed" life here, for eternal damnation later.

I started seeing Bible believing Christians seeking out these same demonic spirits who can work amazing miracles, healings, signs and wonders. Many of the revivalists, missionaries and evangelists within the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement would not even bother to disguise, paraphrase or cloak their teachings. They would pull the same rites and rituals out of the books I had studied in the occult and they would go into churches teaching witchcraft, almost word for word. These revivalists, missionaries and evangelists travel throughout the country going from church to church, offering their so-called "Holy Spirit Revival Meeting". It is a false occult revival, and there is nothing holy about it whatsoever.

I have been in Churches in Southern New Jersey and witnessed 300+ Christians chanting the name of a demon God for nearly half an hour. Yes, that is at a church that proclaims to be born again Bible believing Christians. The guest speaker told the audience that in chanting the word "Hu" it would help to harmonize the energy centers in their body with the energy of God's universe. (He did not reveal that they were chanting the name of a demon God, but I already knew that name from attending meetings with an occult group called Eckankar.)

At another so-called Holy Spirit Revival Meeting, the Toronto Blessing evangelist was teaching the Christians how to train their spirit to leave their body and travel the astral realms. In the occult, we called this witchcraft practice “Astral Projection”. There were over 200 Christians at that particular Holy Spirit Revival Meeting, all so very eager for signs and wonders being taught by this Toronto Blessing evangelist. If you look at the familiar emblem of a witch riding a broom, it is symbolic of the ability of the witch to leave their body and travel throughout the world by means of their spirit guide.

At another so-called Holy Spirit Revival Meeting, the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Evangelist announced that he was going to ask the Lord Jesus to send down the Holy Spirit in a powerful way. While he was praying to his demon lord, the Christians at that church began to bark, howl, hiss and make all kinds of bizarre animal noises. You and I know these behaviors are demonic manifestations, but these poor folks were being lied to and told these are the signs of a powerful anointing from God.

At another so-called Holy Spirit Revival Meeting, when the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Evangelist announced that he was going to offer “an impartation” over each of us, everyone eagerly ran forward to get in line. So did I. He prayed over me and I did receive a spirit. The Lord showed me that when the Toronto Blessing evangelist prayed over me for an impartation, that a demonic spirit then leaped upon me. I could see it quite vividly. I heard it speaking to me. The evangelist promised we would receive an impartation of the Holy Spirit, but I saw a demonic spirit. It took me ten hours of non-stop praying -- begging the Lord to intervene -- until finally that Toronto Blessing spirit released me and left. When you go running up to the altar at these so-called Holy Spirit Revival Meetings eager for that “impartation”, that’s exactly what you are receiving. A demon. When I see a vision that seems a little too hard for me to believe, I always ask the Lord to provide a confirmation of what I have seen. I asked the Lord to provide a confirmation of the appearance of that Toronto Blessing spirit, and two totally different people described that same spirit in detail.

When I began to see these churches hosting large regional conferences teaching the same occultic practices I had been taught years earlier, I was shocked beyond belief. I had remembered David Wilkerson talking about this back in the 1980s. He said the day was coming when Bible believing churches would fall away and begin embracing the occult. It seemed so impossible to me back in the 1980s, but here I was witnessing it occurring right before my eyes. I’m not even talking about a few grey areas. No, I’m talking about them embracing the hardcore witchcraft that had taken me years to work my way up to the point where I could learn, understand and employ what I was being taught.

I have paid a very, very high price for this occult involvement. It has caused me such extensive suffering, torment and grief working to break free of the occult, the depths of suffering for which I cannot effectively put into words. The heavy attacks and overwhelming battles in my life, my health, my finances, and my relationships have been just endless over many years. To this day, I continue to fight to break free of the extensive damage done in my life through involvement with the occult. I do not know many former occultists who claim to have ever gotten completely free. It seems to be a lifelong battle for nearly everyone who has ever gotten entangled with the occult. So many doorways are opened that it sometimes seems like forever to close them all. Few former occultists ever find refuge and acceptance from the local church. Those who attempt to seek out solace and comfort most often find themselves shunned and ostracized once word gets around about their background. Life on earth becomes a hellish purgatory of never ending anguish and torment, the likes of which the uninitiated can never grasp nor understand. Sadly, a number of former witches were so overwhelmed with hopelessness at trying to break free, they thought the only way to gain freedom from endless demonic attacks was only to be found in committing suicide.

I've been to "New Age Christian" churches and conferences where they howl like wolves, whinny like horses, and bark like dogs. Then, at the end of the services, they raise their arms to Heaven and thank Jesus for "revival" and his mighty outpouring of the Holy Spirit, never realizing that they have been engaging in channeling powerful demonic spirits. Scores of people come running to see the powerful "signs and wonders" at these mislead churches. The demons that oversee and empower these signs and wonders churches are the very same demons that we worshiped in our occult rituals. At least we knew who we were serving, and we knew we were going to hell for it. These New Age Christians have absolutely no clue as to what is really going on, nor any idea where the power for their amazing miracles, signs and wonders is originating from.

I see more and more signs of the occult disguising itself and sneaking into the church. It completely shocks me to the core when I see these New Age Christians proclaiming themselves to be loyal to Jesus Christ, and then they blindly embrace the doctrines of demons. Within months, you see them engulfed in bizarre teachings that they would never have considered a few years earlier.

To classify yourself as an "Enlightened Christian" or a "New Age Christian" is the supreme epitome of an oxymoron. In other words, you are describing yourself as a "Satanic Christian" or a "Demonized Christian". You are incredibly self-deceived.

If you have such New Age Christians within your church spreading information about Essential Oils or other New Age teachings, do what the Bible instructs us to do, and kick them out of your church. You are not going to persuade them otherwise. You are not going to be able to reason with them or win them over. You won't be able to convert them. They are agents of the enemy, and their mission is to gain even a very small foothold in your church. Their objective is to insert even the smallest wedge. One way that is being done today is by peddling Essential Oils. If you have not been involved with the occult or New Age in the past, these Essential Oils can seem completely innocuous to the untrained eye. As such, it is a brilliant Trojan Horse. I have another section in this book that goes into more detail on Essential Oils.

As their wedge begins to go in deeper, you will gradually see your church losing its power and you won't understand why. People will begin fighting with one another, and you'll be wondering what's going on in your church and have no idea how to disarm it. Soon enough, the division in your church will overwhelm you. I've seen this happen at churches a number of times.

Of the thousands of cults alive and well all around the world today, the church invasion of the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christianity is the only cult that is given specific attention and a detailed description in the Bible. There are passages that describe the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement specifically to the "T", as if someone were alive today, wrote about the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement, and then reinserted it into the Bible. The descriptions fit like a glove.

In the context of the disciples asking Jesus what will some of the signs be of His return to Earth, Jesus speaks about a group of people that are absolutely convinced that they are Christians, but sadly are not. They have spent years of their lives doing great signs and wonders in the name of Jesus Christ, but in that great day of judgment they learn the sad truth that they were not serving Jesus at all. How incredibly sad for them to discover that not only have they wasted years of their life serving a false Jesus, but that they gave up their eternal salvation as well. Lost for all eternity, living in Hell among the demons that they once cast out of people. They discover all too late that the entity they were actually serving and promoting is a high ranking demonic overlord named Baphomet. It is this demonic prince that oversees occultic false religions, and empowers his self-deceived followers to work mighty signs and wonders, miracles, healings, prophecies, and, yes, to cast out lower ranking demons.

Today, the New Age Christian is a signs and wonders miracle worker. Their movement is one known for working powerful miracles. This movement is known by a variety of names, such as the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement, New Apostolic Reformation, Third Wave, Joel's Army, Kingdom Now, Manifested Sons of God, Emerging Church, Latter Rain, Latter Day Apostles, Apostolic-Prophetic Movement, End Time Prayer Movement, New Age Christians, and others. What tends to happen is a new leader pops up, sees themselves as the newest Moses for the movement, and creates a new name and a new subculture. The teachings differ slightly from one subgroup to the next, such as particular emphasis highlighting some specific area of teaching (healings, exorcisms, post-trib rapture, end times prophecies, etc.), but they are all fundamentally the same exact movement despite the different names being drawn up from time to time. The enemy loves to create confusion. In this book, we interchangeably use the terms Toronto Blessing, Prophetic Movement or New Age Christian Movement.

Most of the followers (probably over 90%) claim they are prophets and prophetess. Many claim to have the gift of healing, and the ability to kick out demons from people. It is all incredibly convincing. Jesus warns of this, in that this movement will be so powerful that it would just about fool the very elect. It is a counterfeit that so closely resembles the true church, that indeed many have fallen into their trap.

If you want to see how absolutely bizarre these New Age Christian churches are, then check out this video by Andrew Strom:

After watching that video, can you still tell me that what you are seeing at these Toronto Blessing Holy Spirit Revival Meetings is not in reality demonic manifestations?

You can see more of these videos by going to YouTube and typing in search phrases such as: Toronto Blessing exposed

Where are all of these Toronto Blessing evangelists, missionaries and revivalists coming from? Nearly all of the higher ups in the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement offer some kind of school or training program for their followers. The highest emphasis is in developing the "gift of prophecy", or what we former occultists refer to as "spirit channeling" or "spirit mediumship". Probably at least 90% of the people within the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement claim that they are prophets and prophetesses, and this is what all of these training schools focus in on the most. There are thousands and thousands of these people running around proclaiming themselves to be apostles and prophets these past 20+ years. That's a lot of prophets and prophetesses running around, isn't it? Do we see any reflection of that in the Bible? No, in the Old Testament, generally there was one key prophet that served as the liaison between God and His people. Not always, but that was generally the case. In reality, all of these prophets and prophetesses of the Toronto Blessing are actually spirit channelers and spirit mediums.

If you look on Facebook, you'll see a number of private groups dedicated to training people how to become a prophet. One such prophetic training group on Facebook that I am looking at right now has over 9,700 members. Another prophetic training group has over 5,000 members. These are all part of this occult revival taking place right in the middle of the modern day Christian church. These people truly believe that this is a revival of God's power in the Last Days. Nothing could be further from the truth. It is the extreme opposite. In reality, they are training these people how to become spirit mediums. If the true God of Heaven chooses you to become a prophet, you won't be needing a training class on how to hear His word speaking to you. You won't need to fork out $10,000 to pay for a two year training course in becoming a prophet with Apostle So and So. From what we read in the Bible, the process for developing a true prophet of God is one that is extensively painful, harsh, spartan and arduous. We can read in the Bible about the trials and testings of God's boot camp that many of the prophets had to go through before God sent them out into the world. They did not go online and buy a CD from Todd Bentley for $39.95 to learn how to become a prophet, listen to New Age soaking music and release their spirit to travel the astral planes.

Todd Bentley is the tattooed lunatic that ran the false revival in Lakeland, Florida during April – August, 2008, where he would kick people in the stomach, smack them or punch them while shouting "Bam, bam!". He kicked an elderly woman in the face because he said the spirit told him to do it. He told about angelic encounters with a female spirit named "Emma", who served as his spirit guide into all truth and revelation. During the revival, he cheated on his wife and carried on sexual relations with one of his staff members. When questioned on national television by Nightline, he could not provide any documentation for a single valid healing. I'll share some more interesting detail on Todd Bentley later when I talk about Sid Roth's television show.

Bill Johnson's church says that their Bethel School of Supernatural Ministry has had 2,000 graduates of their training program go out into 64 countries around the world. These are your Toronto Blessing traveling evangelists that seek to invade your church and bring in their brand of New Age Christianity. That's just one school founded by just one of these demonic false prophets. There are many other such schools throughout the country.

Another one of Bill Johnson's more effective strategies is to use their occultic New Age Christian musicians to go out into the nation and attach themselves to other more mainstream and acceptable Christian bands. When Christian music festivals are held, they push themselves in and get hired right along with the accepted Christian bands. They've done this with large Christian music festivals all around the country, such as Six Flags and Disney World. Sometimes the band will offer to meet with you and pray with you after their show. As always, the primary objective is to get their victims to that point where they can pray with you and perform that "impartation", where the Toronto Blessing demon is transferred from themselves to others. They are going all out.

Bill Johnson also goes after young Christian musicians with his record label, "Jesus Culture Music". They organize large conferences to draw in thousands of Christian musicians from all over the world. They use these conferences to serve as a vehicle to spread their twisted beliefs and occultic spirits. I must emphasize this again that the main objective is to bring other Christians to the point where they are willing to be prayed over and receive the "impartation". It is all very, very clever. A brilliant strategy of the enemy. Sadly, it is all incredibly effective and working quite well.

One of their instructors Kris Vallotton states, "We're equipping a company of revivalists to transform the world." They call the graduates of their New Age Christianity revivalists, missionaries or evangelists. When they approach your church seeking an opportunity to speak to your congregation, they offer their "Holy Spirit Revival Meeting", which is actually an occult revival meeting.

Here's their website:
<http://www.bssm.net/>

You might respond and say, "Well, I went to a few Toronto Blessing meetings and did not see any of that extreme behavior." As I have been saying, they have smartened up and toned things down for new comers so that they can draw you in. All cults do this. The early meetings seem fine and everyone seems very nice. Even the Masons do this, and they keep an open Bible displayed on the altar in their ritual chamber.

Once you are there for a few months, you'll start seeing that these manifestations become more and more common. If you go attend any of the regional conferences of the Toronto Blessing, or any of their larger New Age Christian churches, you'll see these behaviors are quite commonplace. I know first hand because I have attended and seen these things with my own eyes.

Here are the words of Jesus addressing these very specific things:

“Many will say to Me in that day, ‘Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name?’ And then I will declare to them, ‘I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness!’”
Matthew 7:22-23

“For there shall arise false christs and false prophets and shall show great signs and wonders, insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.”
Matthew 24:24

You might respond, “Well, I am a Christian. That means that I am among the elect.” Yes, that might be true, but if you or your church are actively running after signs and wonders, then you are being disobedient to the Bible. There are a number of scriptures sternly warning you not to do this. (Matthew 16:4, Matthew 12:39, Luke 11:16,29, Mark 8:12). [When you see the Bible repeating a teaching several times, that’s a signal to us that this concept is particularly important.]

When you go against what the Bible firmly warns you not to do, and you go running after signs and wonders, you then open the door and grant legal permission for these highly deceptive occultic spirits to afflict you. This means that these spirits of powerful deception now have complete permission to deceive you. (We read in 2 Thessalonians 2:11 where they kept disobeying God, and so He then allowed a powerful deception to come over them as a result of their disobedience). You forfeit your God-given protection when you continually do something the Bible sternly warns you not to do.

We read in 1 Timothy 4:1, where the Holy Spirit warns that in the last days there will be a great falling away of Bible believing Christians. These are church goers who give up their faith, and begin to follow the teachings of demons. They walk away from everything that they have believed in, and give themselves over to deception. They lose their eternal salvation.

Now the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons” 1 Timothy 4:1

This Scripture nails the Toronto Blessing absolutely and completely. I am 110% confident that this passage is absolutely foretelling the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement 2,000 years before it occurred. It completely fits what we are seeing today occur in the church. I have personally and with great sadness watched many, many Bible believing Christians that I have known for years go running after the miracles, signs and wonders offered to them through the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement.

That departure from the faith to follow after these deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons costs these poor souls their Eternal Salvation. They pay for that mistake for all of eternity. (To confirm that you lose your salvation when you embrace and dive into this movement, see Matthew 7:22-23 below).

In Thessalonians, Paul warns of the last days when there will be a great falling away. Again, this is referring to Bible believing Christians who give in to deception, and they leave the true Gospel to follow a false Gospel.

“Now, brethren, concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to Him [referring to “the Rapture”], we ask you, not to be soon shaken in mind or troubled, either by spirit or by word or by letter, as if from us, as though the day of Christ had come. Let no one deceive you by any means; for that Day will not come unless the falling away comes first, and the man of sin is revealed, the son of perdition.”

2 Thessalonians 2:1-3

This is telling us quite specifically that in the last days, just before the Rapture, that there will be a massive and huge falling away of believers from within the church. The devil knows his time is so very close, so he makes one last huge effort at pulling souls away from Christ and leading them into eternal damnation. None of the usual modus operandi apply any longer, as the devil now goes all out in this last great effort at leading souls to Hell.

We are witnessing that deception sweeping through the church right now. It is not a revival of the Holy Spirit, but an occult revival that is slipping past the gatekeepers and directly into the church. This New Age Christian Movement is known mostly for three several things:

- (1) They prophesy powerful and eloquent words that inspire. To prophesy means that the speaker allows a spirit to either communicate directly to their brain and transmit their thoughts from the spirit to the brain of the speaker. Or, the speaker allows that spirit to inhabit their body and speak through them. Within the movement, these alleged prophecies come from Father God, Jesus, the holy angels that stand before God, and saints of God that have died and gone to Heaven.

- (2) They have powerful demonstrations of casting demons out of people. The demons will often put on quite a good show of screaming and thrashing about as they leave the person.
- (3) They perform incredible signs and wonders. Indeed, it is a powerful movement known for its awesome signs and wonders.

We should never, ever assume that just because a ministry or a prophet can perform any of these things, that they are automatically from God. If you are out there chasing signs and wonders, the devil is quite happy to supply you with his counterfeits.

Just like these other passages, Matthew 7:22-23 absolutely and completely fits what we see happening with the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement. It fits 100%.

Not only is Jesus telling us that the counterfeit ministers can do powerful signs and wonders, but that their eternal destination is Hell forever and ever. How horrible to have wasted your life chasing after the miracles, signs and wonders offered by the Toronto Blessing evangelists, missionaries and revivalists, completely believing the great lie that these powerful miracles are from God, but to later find out that you were indwelt with and serving demons.

To summarize, the Bible tells us that there will be a great falling away just before the AntiChrist shows up on the scene. We know that this is referring to believers inside of the church who may have followed Jesus for years, but they turn away from that and begin to follow a deceptive false Jesus. One that they heard about in the church. We are also told that this counterfeit movement will be so incredibly powerful, that it will so closely resemble the actual church, that it will fool many people. We know that the workers of this movement will have incredible power to perform signs and wonders. This is exactly what we are witnessing today.

In the early days of this movement, the followers and practitioners were fairly easy to recognize. I can recall attending some of these meetings and I witnessed with my own eyes all sorts of peculiar behaviors, to include howling, barking, slithering like a snake, whinnying like a horse, laughing hysterically and walking around like completely drunk. When I asked some of the leaders why their followers are howling and barking, they said that it is a sign of a powerful move of the Holy Spirit upon them.

When I was rising in the ranks of the Freemasons, I saw that the lower level members truly believed they were in a Christian organization. This is what many were told. They saw the Bible on their Masonic altar. They recited passages from the Bible. They prayed what seemed to be good Christian prayers. They conducted massive community service programs (Masonic hospitals, Masonic nursing homes, Masonic trips to help the poor, etc.) However, the higher ups knew full well that they were servants of Lucifer. They fully embraced this in exchange for favor and blessings from high ranking demons. They are completely aware that in the next life, after they die, they will spend eternity in hell with demons. They accept this trade-off.

The same is exactly true of the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian. The lower level practitioners truly believe they are serving Jesus Christ, but the higher level organizers are fully aware that it is demons that are giving them their power to work incredible signs, wonders and miracles. They love the power and fully accept the trade-off.

This book will not give you an overview of the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement. There are a number of terrific books out there which do this, and I did not want to repeat the terrific work already done by other authors. You can go to Amazon and type in keyword phrases such as Toronto Blessing to find such books which give a great overview of what the movement is all about. One such book is: "Kundalini Warning: Are False Spirits Invading the Church" by Andrew Strom..

Andrew Strom also has a number of documentary videos on YouTube that will actually show you some of the demonic manifestations which the Toronto Blessing evangelists, missionaries and revivalists teach are manifestations of the Holy Spirit. You'll actually see on these videos the bizarre behavior that is identical to those who worship Kundalini spirits in several third world countries. They captured video from hidden cameras of events taking place in meetings held at Bill Johnson's Bethel Church in Redding, California, and several other Toronto Blessing churches.

I provided one of the links for Andrew Strom on an earlier page, but if you have not watched it yet, I'd encourage you to see what the following three videos. It will take about half an hour, but it will give you a good visual of what goes on in these meetings.

The purpose of this book is to give you a list of traits and characteristics that you can look for when attempt to assess whether if a speaker, evangelist, teacher, preacher or a specific church is part of the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement. They will not tell you up front that that are part of the movement. Many will even lie and deny they are part of it, when in reality they are. Some will go so far as to lie and actually say they never heard of it, but yet you'll see them running out to the regional conferences.

WHY WON'T SOME PASTORS STOP AN OCCULT INVASION IN THEIR CHURCH?

As of this moment, over 4,000 churches have fallen in the United States. It spreads from church to church. Often it is the smaller independent churches that jump on the band wagon, but many large denominational churches have bought into the lie as well.

Your church has been praying for revival and asking the Lord to pour out His spirit with mighty signs and wonders in your community. You'll get a very rapid response to prayers like that. Maybe one of your church leaders hears about a dynamic evangelist that is traveling around your area, and there are reports of healings, demons being kicked out, and powerful signs and wonders. You book the revivalist, not knowing that they are an evangelist playing for the other team. You do not even realize that you have swung your doors wide open for the enemy to send the perfect counterfeit to infect your trusting congregation. An ambassador of the New Age Christian Movement, a/k/a the Toronto Blessing, is now going to be given your precious pulpit from which they can spread their deception.

I have watched this happen repeatedly. The small, fervent church makes a 1 degree shift on the path they have been traveling on. Someone plants the idea that they should all start praying for revival, and for accompanying signs and wonders so that they can make an impact in their community. It seems to make sense in their minds. The bait has been place on the hook. The trap has been set. They won't realize what hit them, and they will all believe that God sent a messenger to them in answer to their fervent prayers. Little do they realize that the enemy has sent his own agent of deception to them, and their pastor has opened the doors wide and allowed a heavily demonized man to come in and speak to them, perform miracles for them, and impart demons to every one of the congregation willing to come forward and stand in his prayer line. It is an ugly deception. It certainly does not seem fair, does it?

Show me where you can find a passage in the Bible where they were praying for revival. Not one. Show me where true followers of Christ were asking God to produce signs and wonders so that their church could make an impact in the community. Nadda. Nothing at all. You won't find a single Bible scripture for either. So why do it? This is an open door invitation for the enemy to send you his false prophets who have great power to work signs and wonders. He will send you one as quickly as possible. You took your eyes off the Lord and veered your path ever so slightly, all the while thinking it was a Godly thing you were pursuing. You should be praying for repentance, not revival. How many times does the Bible chastise people for seeking signs and wonders? Many times. (Matthew 16:4, Matthew 12:39, Luke 11:39, Mark 8:12)

Or, perhaps one day a new visitor comes to your church. They might use a variety of different approaches. Some will come on with great subtlety, and might gain an occultic foothold into your church by promoting and selling Essential Oils. Others will come on very strong, and present themselves as a prophet or prophetess that has arrived to bring revival to the church. Generally one extreme or the other. Eventually the pastor of that church recognizes that something is going on. They begin to look into it, and they reach a point where they have to make a decision about what they are seeing taking place within their church.

Do not make the same mistakes as the leaders of these fallen churches have made. The Bible is very clear what we are to do with false teachers. That we are to have nothing to do with these false teachers. The churches who fell made a decision to ignore that very specific directive from the Bible.

Like termites eating through the foundation structure of a home, eventually the termites win out and the structure falls. Here are some of the lies that these fallen church leaders bought into, and the reasons why they allowed the occult invasion to fester in their churches. I personally know pastors and church leaders who decided on one of the following, and allowed it to consume their church. That pastor then either went along and became part of the movement, or the church body rose up and voted that pastor out of their own church.

Here are some of the most common reasons why pastors are reluctant to confront the occult when it first seeks to invade their church.

1. Let's try to win them over. We can persuade them to see the light.
2. Let's try to convince them to repent and come back to the true Christ.
3. Let's try to win back the souls of the lost. They are just confused.
4. Yes, they are a little off, but I think they still believe in Jesus. Still saved.
5. Let's not offend them. We want to keep coming each week to hear the Gospel.
6. We don't want them to go to Hell, so let's hope that the Word of God will seep into their hearts and reach them.
7. They seem like good people. I've talked to several and they all seem very nice.

8. I've never heard of the Toronto Blessing or New Age Christian Movement before. Plus, I see that the guest speaker has been to many other churches with pastors that I have met in the past. It all seems legit.
9. They volunteer on several committees and are always active in the church. We need all of the volunteers we can get; but we will keep an eye on things.
10. Several of the higher ups in our denomination have endorsed speakers from this movement. If they endorse it, well that's good enough for me.
11. Look at all of their good works they are doing. They have community outreach programs. They are feeding the homeless. They have overseas missions trips. They offer programs to help needy families.
12. They perform healings. Only God can heal.
13. We should not judge any Christian leader, speaker, prophet or evangelist because the Bible warns us to "touch not God's anointed."

I just was hit with numbers 10 and 11 just the other week. I presented numerous proofs to a local pastor who had invited in a credentialed evangelist with the Assemblies of God, yet I had provided him with ample proof that he is a Toronto Blessing revivalist. Then I saw on Facebook some of the church members boasting that there is a powerful spiritual presence there with this gifted evangelist. Nothing I said seem to register with this pastor. It is like you are watching a speeding car drive down the highway, and you know they are headed for a huge ditch in the road that will completely consume them. You do everything you can to warn them to slow down and swerve away from the impending danger, yet they just look at you as they fly right by. Sometimes they even hit the accelerator pedal as you continue to warn them to stop. Being endorsed by your leaders and bosses within your denomination is not a failsafe sign that God is with a certain ministry.

Just a few months earlier, that same church had been posting that they were having all night prayer sessions asking God for revival. Sure enough, a few months later, they are inviting in Toronto Blessing evangelists, missionaries and revivalists. Completely convinced that God has answered their prayers by sending that TB revivalist. I have seen this pattern again and again. Churches praying for revival, and the devil shows up with his circus maximus sideshow of carnival signs and wonders. They welcome the devil right in and invite him to speak at their pulpit. He's got 'em. Hook, line and sinker.

Stop praying for revival. Nowhere in the Bible will you see anyone praying for revival. The devil is super quick to answer your church's prayers for revival by sending you his evangelists and their false revival. Prayers for revival are not found in the Bible anywhere at all. Not once. Instead, PRAY FOR REPENTANCE. The call for repentance is found all throughout the Bible, from beginning to end. Don't pray for revival in America; instead pray for repentance in America.

Why? Here's why...

When you pray for revival, you are essentially seeking after signs and wonders. Think about it. You want to see the supernatural. You want that feeling of overwhelming excitement. You want to see people slain in the spirit. Be honest with yourself and admit that when you are praying for revival, it is in the context of seeking signs and wonders, isn't that correct? What does the Bible say about people who seek signs and wonders?

The Bible says that only wicked people run after signs and wonders. The Bible hammers this point four times in the Gospels. In fact, Matthew lists it two times. When the Bible repeats the same concept several times, it is important for you to listen and absorb what it is saying.

I would describe the hundreds of thousands of people deeply into the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement as an entire generation of New Age Christians that are seeking signs and wonders.

Here are those four passages.

“But He answered and said to them, ‘An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and no sign will be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah.’”

Matthew 12:39

“‘A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and no sign shall be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah.’ And He left them and departed.”

Matthew 16:4

“And while the crowds were thickly gathered together, He began to say, ‘This is an evil generation. It seeks a sign, and no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet.’”

Luke 11:29

“But He sighed deeply in His spirit, and said, ‘Why does this generation seek a sign? Assuredly, I say to you, no sign shall be given to this generation.’”

Mark 8:12

What about legitimate Christian ministries that have miracles occurring? Am I one of those people that believes healing is not for today? No, hence my website domain name "HealedByChrist". If I believed healing was not for today, I would not seek healing by our Lord, nor would I have such a domain name with my testimonial of being healed. I have witnessed and participated in many miracles.

So here is the difference. The Bible teaches that if you put God first, that such things can and will follow after you. The important critical element in the whacky world of the New Age Christian, these lost souls are following after the signs and wonders. They have it completely and fully backwards. They hunger for the supernatural experience in their dreary lives so much that they will do anything for it. Just like the heroin addict will do anything for another high, so the New Age Christian just cannot to have another astral experience. The supernatural experience IS their God. It is all they yearn for. Okay, let's throw a little Jesus in there here and there just to keep the conservatives at bay, right? Worst of all, they are soooo hungry for signs and wonders that they shut off their brains when they see erratic behaviors that are quite clearly demonic manifestations. You do not have to be a rocket scientist to realize that a holy God would not have his followers behaving like frenzied farm animals. Demons delight in such barbaric antics. They hate mankind with such a burning passion. It gives them pure joy to degrade and humiliate men and women in such a distasteful manner. One YouTube video has an evangelist saying, "God told me, 'If you love me, howl like a wolf. Would you howl for me?'" A holy God would never, ever say such a thing to His servant.

Listen the Bible says several times if you have your priorities right, and if you are seeking to have your life right with God, and everything in your house and your life is in order balanced with God first to the best of your ability, then these things can occur. Do you see that the difference is absolutely huge? The gap is wider than the Grand Canyon.

Here are those passages. We see God promising signs and wonders to follow those who believe. In these scriptures, we see the apostles and disciples curing diseases and casting out evil spirits.

And these signs will follow those who believe: In My name they will cast out demons; they will speak with new tongues; they will take up serpents; and if they drink anything deadly, it will by no means hurt them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will recover.

Mark 16:17-18

Behold, I give you the authority to trample on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

Nevertheless do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rather rejoice because your names are written in heaven."
Luke 10:19-20

"Most assuredly, I say to you, he who believes in Me, the works that I do he will do also; and greater works than these he will do, because I go to My Father.
John 14:12

Then Peter said, "Silver and gold I do not have, but what I do have I give you: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk." And he took him by the right hand and lifted him up, and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength.
Acts 3:6-7

For unclean spirits, crying with a loud voice, came out of many who were possessed; and many who were paralyzed and lame were healed.
Acts 8:7

Now it happened, as we went to prayer, that a certain slave girl possessed with a spirit of divination met us, who brought her masters much profit by fortune-telling. And this she did for many days. But Paul, greatly annoyed, turned and said to the spirit, "I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her." And he came out that very hour.
Acts 16:16,18

And it happened that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and dysentery. Paul went in to him and prayed, and he laid his hands on him and healed him. So when this was done, the rest of those on the island who had diseases also came and were healed.
Acts 28:8-9

So, some readers might be thinking, "Okay, so I just need to keep my priorities straight, I just need to seek after God first, and then I'm okay to indulge in the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement." No, absolutely not. This entire book can be summarized in one statement, and that is quite simply put that the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement is an occult revival of false signs and wonders. So, no, you do not want to have anything to do with them no matter what amazing signs and wonders they come up with next.

You do not want to be running after signs and wonders. You do not want that to be the focus of your life and your walk with God.

The enemy wants you to completely miss that point. He wants you to overlook it. He wants you to be yearning for and hungry for miracles, signs and wonders. Once he gets that wedge inserted into your spirit, he was gradually tap it in a little bit further every few days or so.

In fact -- The devil WANTS your church to pray for revival. What? Really? Why? Because he wants to then show up with his false revivalists, missionaries and eveangelists to demonstrate all of the amazing signs and wonders of this movement. He wants you to open up your doors and allow his false revivalists to preach behind your pulpit. Your Bible believing church is a juicy target for the enemy. In these last days, the devil is just burning with desire to take down your church.

The devil is clever, isn't he? Yes, this is a brilliant plan. A powerful deception.

I have seen many churches praying for revival later get swept up into the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement. I can think of one ten miles from my home that was posting notices of praying for revival, and, sure enough, a few months later they were promoting a Toronto Blessing revivalist coming to hold revival meetings at that same church. Open your mouth and insert this hook in your jaw. They forsake their eternal salvation and begin embracing the doctrines of devils. This is a hard pill to swallow. It is hard to believe. But I have seen this happen numerous times.

Another fellow I've known for years was completely resistant to all the proofs I showed him that he was attending a Toronto Blessing church. He just started going there only a few weeks before, and was completely swept away with the signs and wonders he was witnessing. He was convinced that God would empower him to work miracles, and he would travel the world serving God as a healing evangelist. No matter what I said, he always responded with pointing out the good works in the community that they were doing. In his mind, a movement empowered by devils would not be doing any good works for the community. Well, we know this is not true. When I was active with the Freemasons, they were always out there in the community performing good deeds. They had constructed hospitals for children and nursing homes for seniors. They were always running some sort of community outreach event. Yet they are a worldwide organization completely and fully dedicated to serving Lucifer. Good works in the community is not a failsafe sign that God is with a certain ministry.

Item 12 on the list that only God can heal is another church myth that seems to be widely accepted. Talk to any missionary who has served in third world countries where the witch doctor serves as the local leader for the village, and you will hear stories of how heavily demonized witch doctors can heal. Think back a few decades to Edgar Cayce, who had over 3,000 cases of documented healings. Healing is not a failsafe sign that God is with a certain ministry.

Regarding Item 13 on the list, that we should not criticize our church leaders, evangelists and teachers. "Touch not mine anointed" is another one of those scriptures that is frequently used by New Age Christians to defend and silence those who would seek to critique them or expose their heresies. If a friend of yours is using that passage, chances are very high they are a New Age Christian attempting to deceive and beguile. This is a common tactic among the wolves in sheep's clothing that are so aggressively invading churches.

Many Christians wrestle with this concept and are not sure where to draw the line. Do you expose evil when you see it, or are you violating 'touch not mine anointed' when you question or critique things they are preaching?

These passages on touch not God's anointed seem to be most often abused by politicians, and by false teachers. Both of which use the passage to gain leverage, manipulation, and control over other people.

It would most definitely seem that exposing the works of darkness seems even more imperative in today's world considering all the events of the past several months.

"Have nothing to do with the fruitless deeds of darkness, but rather expose them."
Ephesians 5:11

While some believers might argue that all politicians are covered under the admonition of 1 Timothy 2:1-4 to pray for our leaders, it seems unlikely that all political leaders can be categorized under a much more restricted classification of "God's anointed" found in 1 Chronicles 16:22 and Psalm 105:15

"Saying, touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm."
1 Chronicles 16:22 and Psalm 105:15

We see many, many false teachers, false prophets and New Age Christians proclaiming that it is wrong for anyone to criticize them and critique them. Most noted are the false evangelists and false revivalists who adopt the title "Prophet" or "Apostle" and often refer to themselves as God's anointed. They absolutely love to use the passage of "touch not mine anointed" as leverage to threaten anyone who opposes them.

If someone uses those passages "touch not mine anointed" in the context of not criticizing or questioning the claims of Prophet so and so, or Apostle so and so, the chances are very high that you are dealing with a false teacher or false prophet. They generally seem to be the only ones attempting to pull rank with that passage.

What does the Bible say on such matters? Let's take a look.

First, we see the Bereans were highly praised for searching the scriptures to confirm all that Paul said was indeed true.

“These were more fair-minded than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness, and searched the Scriptures daily to find out whether these things were so.”

Acts 17:11

Was Paul offended by this? No, of course not. Neither should any preacher or teacher today be offended if people in the church are double checking all that is said from the pulpit. In fact, we need more people to be doing that these days. False teachings are gushing out like fire hydrants these days.

Secondly, in Revelations 2:2, we see that Jesus Christ commended the Ephesian believers for testing those who claimed to be apostles and found out that they were false apostles.

“I know your works, your labor, your patience, and that you cannot bear those who are evil. And you have tested those who say they are apostles and are not, and have found them liars;”

Revelations 2:2

Only a cocky and arrogant person would be so overly confident as to place themselves on a pedestal and to publicly refer to themselves as God's anointed. Even Paul and Peter, two of the most faithful and altruistic servants of Christ that ever lived, preferred to talk about their weaknesses in Christ rather than brag of their strength and position over others.

“If I must boast, I will boast in the things which concern my infirmity.”

2 Cor 11:30

Peter and Paul never let any man praise them or worship them in any manner whatsoever (Acts 10:26 and Acts 14:15). But we know that Peter and Paul were so powerfully anointed that Peter's shadow and pieces of Paul's clothing had the power to heal people of diseases and cast out demons.

Third, in Galatians 1, Paul felt that Peter was in error and was being hypocritical, so Paul rebuked Peter, and Peter received it in humility with a humble spirit. A good lesson for us all. Peter did not respond back in arrogance like the false teachers of today and say, "Paul, you better stop harassing me in public. I am a prophet of God and you should not touch God's anointed." You never saw them giving themselves fancy titles which only serve to flatter the ego, puff themselves up and impress others.

If we do happen to see God's true servants falling into sin, we are asked to address it. Not ignore it. Too many churches allow sin to go unaddressed in their church, and that is wrong. If they continue in their sin without repentance, we are asked to remove them from the fellowship. (Matthew 18:15-16)

The term "God's anointed" seems much more likely to refer to those servants of God who are completely sold out 150% for God. Those who live and breath for the service of God and the Kingdom of God. Those who seek to further the Kingdom of God in everything that they do. They seek to follow every commandment and admonition to the best of their ability, however and wherever possible in their lives. (John 15:5, Matthew 12:50) They deny themselves and seek to help others around them; they encourage others to also follow all that God commands of us. (Matthew 5:19)

"If you love me, keep my commandments."
John 15:5

"For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother."
Matthew 12:50, Mark 3:35, Luke 8:21

"Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven."
Matthew 5:19

By far, the biggest trap that brings down churches when they are being invaded by occultists, either overtly or covertly, is that they refuse to heed stern warnings and instructions from the Bible to have nothing to do with false teachers. In this aspect, they remove God from the throne in their lives, and assert that they know better than God does. They are overconfident in their abilities to win that false teacher back to God. They are relying on their own human skills, despite the fact that the Bible says no man can come to Jesus unless the Father draws him.

"No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws them,"
John 6:44

You do not have the ability to do this and draw people to Christ in your own power. Perhaps God has used you in the past as an instrument, but do not then become arrogant, cocky or overconfident and feel that it is your skills, your personality and your talent that can overcome barriers and draw human beings to Christ.

Ask most pastors this question, “Pastor, if a false teacher comes to visit our church, what should we do? If my spouse brings home a friend that I think is a false teacher, what should I do?” Very few will give you the correct biblical answer. Few seem to know the Bible’s firm stand towards false teachers. False teachers are viewed by the Bible as enemy combatants that you are to have nothing to do with. It’s in plain English. It’s not one of those Bible doctrines that is subject to interpretation.

When the Bible gives you specific instructions to cut off false teachers and have nothing to do with them, then that is what you should do. When you buy into one of these lies, and you think you can win them back to the Gospel and repentance, then you are inviting disaster into your lives. The Bible tells you plainly to have nothing to do with them, and yet you think you can convince them to repent and come back to the true Jesus Christ? In the last ten years, I have not known one single person to repent from being a New Age Christian. Not one. It does not mean it won’t happen, I’m just saying I have not ever heard of it happening. The experiences are just too powerful. Like a drug.

You are hoping to get them to convert, but the chances are ten thousand times more likely that it is actually you who will be converted. Not them. Their primary objective is always to get you to allow them to pray for you to receive their “impartation”. They want to transfer that demonic spirit from themselves to you, so that you can experience all that they experience. Is it worth taking the chance? No. Absolutely not. Heed the Bible and cut these false teachers out of your life. Don’t play around with this. Nothing is worth losing your eternal salvation. When you toy around with these people, and disregard the firm instruction from the Bible, in essence you are saying, “No, in this instance, I know more than God does. I feel that I have a chance of bringing them around and showing them the error of their ways.”

If a reputable source quietly informed you that a guest speaker has been confirmed as having Ebola, you certainly would not let that guest speaker into your church, would you? You would naturally take a few steps to confirm things for yourself, and then re-evaluate and make a final decision one way or the other. In the very least, you would postpone things for a later date until you could check into this matter in more detail. After all, the health of your church could possibly be at stake, right? We have seen that doctors and nurses who took every possible known precaution still contracted Ebola and died a horrible death. Ebola is just that deadly, and it is that powerfully contagious.

Ebola is incredibly resilient and it has the ability to hop over the normal barriers that have helped to contain deadly viruses in the past. If the experts still fell to Ebola, how foolish would an average Joe be to think he could come into contact with this deadly virus and remain unharmed? What expertise can he point to in showing he has experience in working with and combating deadly viruses? Suppose someone approached you and said, "I have over 30 years experience in studying this deadly virus, please listen to what I have to say for your own protection." Wouldn't you at least stop what you are doing and hear them out? Your own life and the lives of others might hang in the balance, right?

If you would take such precautions regarding a person that might possibly be bringing Ebola your church, why would you not take the same precautions if you were being warned that a guest speaker is very likely part of the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement. There is much more at stake than their lives. You are placing their eternal salvation into jeopardy when you allow Toronto Blessing preachers, teachers and evangelists to come into your church and speak. This cult of false signs and wonders is much more deadly than Ebola.

In Romans, Paul clearly states we are to have nothing to do with those who are false teachers. We are not to visit their churches. We are not to watch their TV programs. We are not to socialize with them. We are not to read their books or watch their DVDs, with the intention of weeding out the bad teachings and accepting what we think are the good teachings. We are not to allow them to visit our churches, sit in our pews and network among our people; and certainly not allow them to preach from our pulpits. The Bible says we are not even to say hello to them. (2 John 1:9-11 and Romans 16:17-18) The Bible has very, very strict teachings on what to do with false teachers. Yet how many pastors completely ignore this teaching on what we are to do with false teachers infiltrating our churches and peddling their ware among us?

"Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them. For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple"
Romans 16:17-18

In Galations, Paul says that false teachers preaching a false Christ are cursed.

"But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, if any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed." Galatians 1:8-9

John tells us that we should not even speak to them. If we do, we are sharing in their evil deeds.

“Whoever transgresses and does not abide in the doctrine of Christ does not have God. He who abides in the doctrine of Christ has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this doctrine, do not receive him into your house nor greet him; for he who greets him shares in his evil deeds.” 2 John 1:9-11

We know that the Bible makes reference to three unforgivable sins: blaspheming the Holy Spirit, worshipping the beast and accepting the mark. Those who commit any of those sins will commit themselves to eternal damnation.

Jesus explains that blaspheming the Holy Spirit is when you take the workings of the Holy Spirit and claim it is Satan’s work (Mathew 12:31-32; Mark 3:28-30). I have to wonder if the reverse is true? Meaning, taking the workings of Satan and claiming it is the Holy Spirit? When we see devils within these New Age Christians performing signs and wonders in the name of Christ, is that also blaspheming the Holy Spirit? We do not know for sure, but it seems very likely!

If you think about it, if you think you can redeem a New Age Christian and get them to repent, you are essentially saying you have more wisdom than God does on this matter. God tells you to have nothing to do with them, not even to talk to them, and yet you allow them in your church and you think you are going to reach them and turn them around. You know already that God says no man can come to God unless God Himself draws them. So if God is telling you to stay away from them, why wouldn’t you do just that?

The purpose of this book is to give you some tools to identify when that invasion takes place in your own church. You will learn how to pick up on the subtleties that have made this movement so successful in thousands of other churches.

WHAT IS A NEW AGE CHRISTIAN?

A New Age Christian is a person who has embraced the occult, but it has all of the trappings of being a genuine follower of Jesus Christ. At the lower levels, they have most of the right terminology, some good worship music, and even some decent preaching. Once you get into the more inner circles, then you see the truly bizarre nature of this movement with its outlandish demonic teachings, behaviors and manifestations. But they have an added bonus. They are a powerful cult of miracles, signs and wonders. It's what they live for. The high ranking demonic principalities who run this cult are the same group of demons who ran the occult groups that I was part of back in the day. Demon princes such as Baphomet, Tubal-Cain, Boaz, Machaben, and Adonai. If the hideous creatures they were worshipping were to suddenly appear, the horror of what they saw would cause their hearts to stop beating. If you Google Baphomet, you can see what a lovely creature he is. Take a quick second and look at Baphomet. Yes, the same hideous creatures that were empowering the occult groups I was a member of back in the day are now empowering the New Age Christian Movement. How sad that most of their victims genuinely believe they are following Jesus Christ, and that they are working miracles, signs and wonders with the power of Jesus Christ. Never realizing they are being empowered by Baphomet and his henchmen.

The Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement is a powerful demonic cult of signs and wonders. They are known for these specific supernatural abilities: (a) miracles, signs and wonders; (b) prophecies from God, Jesus, angels and former living saints (Old Testament and New Testament); (c) healing the sick; and (d) casting out demons. We are not saying that all these things are wrong (some are), but we are saying that the forces that empower the New Age Christian to do these miraculous things comes from the kingdom of darkness, not from God. Angels and dead saints will never inhabit the body of a saint and speak through them. This will never, ever, ever happen. Never. Those are demons pretending to be angels and dead saints.

When I was in the occult, I saw many people channeling what they thought were angelic beings (but they were really demons). It is a powerful deception in these last days, and it is meant to infiltrate the church and rob believers of their eternal salvation. What we called channeling, this movement now calls prophesying, or "walking in the prophetic anointing".

The New Age Christian Movement was foretold by the Bible some 2,000 years ago. When the disciples asked Jesus for signs that the age is coming to an end, He talked about it. He told how this powerful movement would so closely resemble the true church, that it would almost fool the very elect chosen to receive eternal salvation from the beginning of time (Matthew 24:24). But worst of all, Jesus said that such people would be sent to Hell (Matthew 7:21-23). Nothing could be more sad than for such a person to think they are serving Jesus, to think they are working powerful signs and wonders through the power of Jesus, but only to find out when they die that they were serving demons the entire time. How incredibly sad.

At least in those days when we were serving demons, we knew what we were doing, who we were worshipping and that we would go to Hell one day when we died here in this world. We knowingly accepted a trade-off. We performed elaborate rituals in their honor and pledged our allegiance to these demonic creatures in this life, in exchange for all their blessings they felt us worthy of giving to us.

IS THIS THE GREAT OUTPOURING OF THE HOLY SPIRIT?

The New Age Christians will tell you that this is the great outpouring of the Holy Spirit prophesied for the end days. With this new cult, the vast majority of the followers have absolutely no idea who they are worshipping. Some know, but most are convinced that they are experiencing a powerful outpouring of the Holy Spirit. They believe it is Him that is giving them the ability to work powerful signs and wonders, to enable their spirits to leave their bodies and travel the heavenly astral realms, and to allow high ranking angels of Almighty God to enter their bodies and speak to others with amazing prophecies. They are absolutely convinced that all of this is from God.

We have already established that the Bible says there will be a great falling away of believers in the last days, right? So how can there be a great outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the last days, and yet the Holy Spirit also say that there will be a great falling away, as well? These two concepts are mutually exclusive, aren't they? It is clearly one or the other, but not both.

This is an explanation. When the New Age Christian refers to the great outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the Last Days, they are making reference to Joel 2:28-30:

“And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit. And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth: Blood and fire and pillars of smoke.” Joel 2:28-30

That sounds great, right? And it seems to make sense. But, if you know your Bible, you know that in the Book of Acts it tells us that this event has already occurred. In fact, so that there can be absolutely no mistake, it specifically refers directly to Joel 2:28-29.

Let's take a look. The 120 had been gathered together, and the Holy Spirit fell on them in the upper room. They go out into the town, and people start mocking them, saying that they are drunk and full of wine.

Peter stands up to the mockers and says:

For these are not drunk, as you suppose, since it is only the third hour of the day. But this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel: 'And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God, That I will pour out of My Spirit on all flesh; Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, Your young men shall see visions, Your old men shall dream dreams. And on My menservants and on My maidservants I will pour out My Spirit in those days; And they shall prophesy. I will show wonders in heaven above And signs in the earth beneath: Blood and fire and vapor of smoke. Acts 2:15-19

When the New Age Christian tries telling you that the signs and wonders, and the amazing prophecies given to them from God, Jesus, holy angels and saints are all a fulfillment of Joel, you know that the fulfillment of Joel occurred 2,000 years ago. It's right there in black and white.

If you think about it, Satan's desire to be like God goes back several few thousand years. In the rebellion, Isaiah 14:13-14 tells us that Satan had said in his heart, "I will be like the Most High." With that being Satan's key driving forces, he is always motivated to duplicate what God is doing and create his own demonic counterfeits. He always has that burning desire to sit himself on God's throne, and to position himself to be worshipped just like God is worshipped.

He passes that thirst on to his followers, as well. That's one of the first hooks in the jaw he used on mankind in the Garden of Eden. In Genesis 3:5, Satan tempts Eve with the prospect of "your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God". That is an old trick and an old lure that Satan uses on mankind up through today, offering them the ability to become godlike with supernatural gifts, supernatural abilities and supernatural experiences. It is the keystone of the New Age Movement.

Have their been legitimate outpourings of the Holy Spirit? Yes, but they have always been holy, and they have always been preceded by great numbers of people repenting.

I should not have to tell you, also, that a holy angel or one of the Bible saints from the New Testament or Old Testament is not going to come and inhabit the body of one of these New Age Christian prophets and prophetess and speak through them. These are lying demons that are inhabiting these people and speaking through them. I have lost track of how many times I heard these prophets go into their trance and say, "I am the Angel Gabriel. I stand before Almighty God. I have come to you today to share with you that God is doing a new thing.” They then proceed to rally up the audience with some promise of some new supernatural experience God has in store for them. This is actually called “spirit mediumship” or “spirit channeling”, and they are channeling a lying demon that has come to inhabit them and speak through them to beguile the audience.

Those Christians that came out of the occult have a little bit of an upper hand when it comes to these things. The former occultist instantly knows these things are not of God, but are heavily satanic. Today they are calling it prophesying, but we all called it channeling or spirit mediumship.

We know that channeling angels is not of God, because we knew scores of witches and occultists who did it every day of their lives. We know that these demonic spirits pretending to be Holy Angels.

We know that astral projection into the heavenly realms is heavily occultic witchcraft. In fact, the symbol of the witch flying on a broom is said to represent the ability of the witch to have their spirit leave their body and travel on the astral planes. But for $39.95, you can get a CD from Todd Bentley that teaches you how to do it.

We who came out of the occult are amazed at the depth of the deception these New Age Christians live under. We also know that no amount of reasoning will reach the New Age Christian. Once they experience those amazing powers, why would they ever want to return to what they think of as a boring and mundane life.

It’s like trying to debate with a heroin addict. Until they crash and burn, no amount of logic will reach their minds because that heroin experience is so incredibly powerful. The same can be said for those who have been in the Toronto Blessing for a reasonable amount of time. No matter what logical and strategic points you can come up with, their minds are closed to it because they absolutely love the new incredible gifts and powers they have.

They have bitten and tasted the forbidden fruit, and have bought into the entire deception hook, line and sinker. You are asking them to return to what they view as the boring and mundane world once again. Won’t happen.

Two thousand years ago, Jesus foretold of this day when there would be a great falling away of the church. He described in detail what this new movement would be known for, with their abilities to work miracles, prophesy and cast out devils. He also foretold their fate, that they would serve a fantasy false religion and spend all of eternity in Hell.

We are witnessing all of that being fulfilled in our day as the New Age Christian Movement sweeps through churches around the world.

There are a lot of videos out there on YouTube, exposing the New Age Christian Movement. You can find videos of people like Patricia King twitching and jerking about, or Todd Bentley kicking people in the stomach.

That's not my purpose here today. There's already a ton of information available on the internet. You can sit there for hours looking at videos of these New Age Christians behaving like farm animals. So I'm not going to go into more detail exposing all that is wrong with New Age Christians, because there is already plenty of information on that.

TOOLS FOR DISCERNING THE NEW AGE CHRISTIAN

In my growth as a Jesus Follower, I like to bring in strategies I have learned from other fields, such as computer technology or nursing.

By cross-referencing with other vocations, you can gain new insights that were previously invisible to the eye. Here are some of the traits and characteristics that are common among all computer viruses.

1. A virus can hit my computer invisibly, without me even knowing that its there. Sometimes there are very faint symptoms early on, such as a slightly slower internet access speed or data access speed. I have to know my computer very well in order to pick up on these very faint symptoms early on.
2. There are a variety of ways that a virus can sneak into my computer. My anti-virus software is a buffer standing in the gap between my computer and the outside world. Without that anti-virus software, I will be hit hard. There are several hundred thousand viruses out there, and brilliant evil minds create new viruses every week. It is only a matter of time before a nasty virus comes and destroys my computer. My investment of all that previous hard work is wiped out.
3. I should be constantly vigilant, and running scans everyday to be sure my computer has not been invaded by the latest virus.
4. My antivirus software is only as good as the last update. Even with the best anti-virus software, all computers still have some level of being vulnerable. No computer is ever 100% protected against invading viruses. For the anti-virus software to work, they must be familiar with the latest virus and write an antidote for each specific virus.
5. If my computer gets hit with a virus, the sooner I intervene, the better off things will be.
6. If I allow that virus to remain active for a long period of time, that many parts of my computer will become infected.
7. If I wait too long, there is a period when the virus overruns the computer and there is no option left but to completely wipe out the hard drive and start again.

Knowing these patterns about computer viruses, we can recognize similar patterns when there is an occult invasion in the church. All seven traits and characteristics of computer viruses also apply to an occult invasion when the New Age Christian targets your church and infiltrates your congregation.

We live in the Age of Deception where the enemy is working hard with new brilliant plans for taking down and neutralizing churches. Today the enemy is using Essential Oils to slip the occult into the church. It's a brilliant plan and incredibly deceptive because it looks so innocent. In a year or two, it might be something else.

We must be constantly vigilant about the health of our churches and be certain that the gate keepers are alert. Take a minute to re-read the list of seven traits of viruses, but this time think in terms of your family and your church being vulnerable to outside attacks. Think of things that can be done to increase the strength of the firewall protecting your family and your church.

We can inoculate our families and our churches and make them more immune to the enemy by always going back to the basics. The true Jesus Follower should be setting aside 30 minutes a day for daily devotions. For me, I break that down into three segments: Bible study, worship (hymns) and prayer.

Staying committed to this time of daily devotions is similar to #4 on the list above, where you are refreshing your antivirus software and getting the latest antivirus updates. The constant daily software update helps keep you inoculated to outside attacks. The commitment of just 30 minutes a day in prayer and Bible study will help keep you and your family inoculated against outside attacks from the enemy.

In nursing, if a patient falls and may have hit their head, we have to perform periodic neuro checks. First we perform them every 15 minutes. Then every hour. Then every four hours. Then every eight hours. We go through a checklist of possible symptoms in order to complete our assessment. If we see one or two things on the checklist, it might not mean anything. That might be normal for that person. But if several things come up on that neuro checklist, it is cause for alarm and we need to intervene and take action. For example, the person might have low blood pressure or a high pulse rate. If they only have a high pulse rate, that might be the norm for that individual. But because they have both, it might mean there is internal bleeding and this could mean disaster. Intervention is needed.

This assessment checklist is very similar. Don't get upset if you see a pastor, evangelist or teacher saying one of the keyword phrases on the list. But if you see that indicator with several other indicators, then, yes, I'd become concerned. My job here today is give you a tool so that when that New Age Christian is knocking on your door, or inviting your children out to see this new dynamic speaker, you can better vet them out. This teaching will show you some strategies for identifying them when they target you, your family or your church. A tool that will help you prevent disaster. I have seen with my own eyes churches being invaded by New Age Christians, and I have watched those churches fall. I don't want that to happen to you, your family or to your church.

Some of the things I say will have to be repeated several times. Forgive me for that, but this material is important, and I want to be sure that it sinks in.

We live in the days of brilliant deceit. I frequently call this the "Age of Deception", meaning that the false churches so closely resemble the real churches, that you can barely tell the difference. But there is a big difference, isn't there. When the disciples asked Jesus about signs for the coming age, he gave a warning about the great falling away – of believers – and of a church that can work signs and wonders, that can prophesy, and that can even cast out demons. They resemble a genuine church in just about every possible way. They have power. But what is their ultimate destination? Jesus says to these lost souls, "Depart from me, for I never knew you." They spent years doing signs and wonders in Jesus name, and yet when they face the great throne judgment, they are sent into the flames of hell for all eternity.

I can recall the early days of this movement, where you would go to their meetings and I remember seeing with my own eyes people barking, howling, whinnying and slithering. At the end of the movement, they would stand up and shout, "Thank you Jesus for such a mighty outpouring of your precious Holy Spirit!" These lost souls truly believed with all of their hearts that when they saw everyone around them barking like dogs and howling like wolves, that this was an outpouring of the Holy Spirit. We know beyond a doubt that such behaviors are not the Holy Spirit, but that they are clearly manifestations of demonic spirits.

Several years back, such behaviors were completely unrestrained. Then they realized that the genuine Christians caught on. The real Jesus Followers knew that this was a grand party of demons out having a good time. So they wised up. They got smart.

A new edict came down to reign in the outrageous behaviors, and to more closely resemble the behavior, the speech, the mannerisms of genuine Christian churches. Right now we are in the "Age of Deception" and these occult infested churches so closely resemble a real church that it is hard to discern, especially for the new Christian.

ARE THEY FOOLING EVERYONE?

Those who have been walking with the Lord for 10 to 20 years know something is not quite right with these people. They can feel the subtle differences. When they are in close proximity to the New Age Christian, they just know that something is wrong and not quite right.

The former witches also know who they are. If you've spent any time in the occult, you recognize the same behaviors. You recognize the same music. You recognize the same teachings of meditation, astral projection, and spirit channeling. For the first time in my life as a Christian, I'm glad I went through that otherwise I might be running after these powerful signs and wonders, too! I'm sure I would be! Now, they are harder and harder to pick out. They claim that they are experiencing a great revival of the Holy Spirit, but it is still just demons at play.

The same high ranking demonic princes that were running the occult groups I was in are now running the churches that have become indoctrinated with New Age Christianity. The same demons that were granting power and authority through the name of Satan, are now out there pretending to be the Archangel Michael, the Angel Gabriel and many times even Jesus Himself.

This invasion of the occult into the church was foretold by Jesus 2,000 years ago. It is within the context of being asked for signs of the end of the age that Jesus says, "false prophets shall show great signs and wonders; so that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect." We are now living that which was foretold by Jesus. That it our reality today, where the deception is so powerful, that it resembles an outpouring of the Holy Spirit so closely, we might be at 99.9%.

Every cult in the world has some catch phrases they like to use. If you sit next to two Jehovah's Witnesses while out having lunch, chances are you'll pick up on some of their terms and realize they are JW's. If you overhear a group of Freemasons out having dinner, chances are you'll overhear some of the terms and pet phrases they like to use. Same here. So we'll look at some of their favorite terms and phrases that I hear them using frequently.

You rarely see the New Age Christians going out into the streets of the inner city, looking for the drug addict, the prostitute, the homeless man. Seeking to save the lost has never ever been their mission field. Their mission field is the Christian church. They almost always go after other Christians.

Yes, there are a small number of New Age Christian evangelists that seek to break out of that mold, and make a name for themselves by recruiting fresh converts. But, by and large, probably 95% of the New Age Christian evangelists are going after other Christians.

They are looking to invade and take over a Christian church. They are good at it. I've seen both big churches and small churches fall when they infiltrate and spread that powerful New Age spirit of signs and wonders.

WHAT DO THEY DO ONCE INSIDE OF A CHURCH?

This movement quietly goes from church to church. They strategically infiltrate a church and quietly spread from one person to the next. When they infiltrate a church, they always target the centers of influence within a church that gives them access to impact the most people. Their two favorite offices within a church are worship and prayer. They seek to get on the worship team, and they seek to get into the prayer ministry team.

Their first order of business is to gain the trust of those around them. They begin volunteering for a number of things. They are always projecting themselves as happy, pleasant, and easy to get along with. After a grace period, the work real begins. They start to recruit. Some begin by sharing and peddling Essential Oils, teaching tapes, soaking music or drumming music.

There are many proofs and first hand experiences that indicate if you bring New Age books, tapes and objects into your home, that you grant those spirits permission to enter your home. I've experienced this first hand, and had to go through an extensive process of going through every nook and cranny and tossing out anything that might have ties to the enemy. So if this New Age Christian starts passing out things for you to take home, you unknowingly start granting spirits associated with the Movement to enter your abode and take up residence there with you and your family.

Others get into the prayer ministry, and want to start praying for everyone in your church. Eventually they get around to the invitations. They talk about some exciting conference coming up, and they begin inviting a few select people to go with them to this terrific conference.

At the conference, they'll probably see some amazing signs and wonders take place. The recruiter will encourage the victim to go forward and be prayed over to receive the impartation. That's when the speaker or evangelist will lay hands on the victim, and transfer a demon (or several demons) into that person. They have full legal right to do so. You are treading on their unholy ground; you sat through the entire service; you now went forward for the invitation. The spirits associated with the Movement now have full legal right to oppress you. Welcome to the party! Now the recruiter has completed their job with you, and they move on to the next person. Reset and repeat. The process starts all over again with the next person or small group of people.

This is how I have watched their modus operandi when they go from church to church, trying to recruit followers into the New Age Christian Movement. If someone catches on to what they are doing and confronts them, the recruiter often turns to arrogant sarcasm, seething anger and snide insults. The personality transformation is amazing to watch. You'll see it. They seem unable to keep pumping energy into maintaining that false front when they are exposed and discovered. If they had some brains, they would try to maintain that level of warm friendliness in hopes of winning people over. But that seems beyond their ability when confronted. The extreme change in disposition and countenance is as fast as flicking a light switch. Sometimes it cracks me up when I see it happen. Just in case you were still undecided, that dramatic personality change is a good confirmation.

When I was on the Board of Directors for Youth for Christ, we had a young couple join us that seemed like the ideal volunteers. I knew the girl from my old church, but the boyfriend I barely knew at all. They volunteered for everything. They were stuffing envelopes, they were doing office work, but they always wanted to be there when we were praying with children. That was their target, to be in charge of the prayer team. We would hold Christian night and rent out the roller skating ring and there would be these two going around, praying with children ages 5 to 15.

When I spoke with this young couple, I just always had the nagging feeling that something was not quite right. I could not put my finger on it. I would arrange circumstances to spend time with them and try to figure it out, but to no avail. This went on for a while, and then one day I overheard them in a conversation dropping some names that I knew were nationally known in the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement.

I confronted them, dug deeper, and realized what they were about. They lied to my face and completely denied any association with the Toronto Blessing, even though I had just heard them talking about several names just a few minutes earlier. Later, they flip flopped, and tried to persuade me to come and try it out over at a New Age Christian church they were attending in Easton, Pennsylvania.

By the time I figured out what they were up to, they were so deeply entrenched at Youth for Christ that it was an uphill fight to get rid of them. The staff had no clue what I was talking about. New Age Christians? What's that? We were already low on volunteers, and these two were the volunteers that any non-profit or any church would dream for! They volunteered for everything. They came across as warm, friendly, outgoing. But they were New Age infiltrators. They were targeting children and using Youth for Christ as their cover. I even had to fight the YFC staff to get rid of them. Finally, I persuaded the staff, and the Executive Director asked them to leave. He told me he was very surprised when they admitted to it.

Shortly after that, this young couple went on to become probably one of the top 20 evangelists promoting the New Age Christian Movement throughout the country. Shortly after I kicked them out of Youth for Christ, they packed their bags and went traveling around the country, staying with the top 15 leaders of the New Age Christian Movement.

They first stayed with Todd Bentley for a few months, then they'd pack up and go stay with the next New Age Christian leader. They have trained under every top leader, more than a dozen of them. They have traveled all throughout the United States, spreading that new age spirit of false signs of wonders everywhere they go.

A TROJAN HORSE VIRUS THAT BECOMES HARDER TO ERADICATE

Under their new mandate of doing their best to mimic and copycat genuine Christians, it has become increasingly more difficult to pick these New Age Christians out in a crowd. Just like most other cults, they do not want to raise any red flags early on. They want you to view them as believing in Christ just the way you do, plus maybe a little bit more. Their church is just like your church, but maybe a little more enhanced in the things of God.

I began asking the Lord to please show me how to recognize such infiltrators. I asked Him to show me how I can identify them more quickly, before they can do extensive damage and take down another church. They are like a virus that enters the computer. They enter your church and they seek to replicate that virus and spread it among all of the components of the computer. And, like a virus, the longer they stay within the computer, the harder it is to eradicate them.

I know of several churches where the virus spread so extensively, that by the time the pastor caught on to what was happening, they had become successful in forcing the pastor to step down. I'm talking churches with 1500 people.

The Bible is very, very clear on what we are to do when we discover a false teacher within our midst. We are not to try to win them over, we are not to try to debate with them nor reason with them. The Bible clearly states we are to cut ties with such people. We are to send them packing. When you don't heed the Bible on such matters, you are inviting disaster. It is only a matter of time. Just ask those pastors that lost their church. The one Pastor I am thinking of never was the same. Never regained another position with another church.

On my laptop, I run that virus checker every day. I check for updates on the antivirus software. My computers have been hit with viruses in the past, and I lose an extensive amount of time trying to repair the damage that is done. The watchers of your church need to be just as vigilant.

HOW TO USE THE ASSESSMENT CHECKLIST

I have compiled an assessment checklist of a number of things to look for. Please understand, I am not saying that each specific thing on the list is wrong or sinful or anything. What I am saying is that these are traits and characteristics that the New Age Christians have in common. Just like with all other major cults, there are always some common traits and characteristics that members of a specific cult have in common. Just because you hear one single word that is used often by people in the Jehovah Witnesses, it does not necessarily mean that the person is a member of that cult. You have to dig a little deeper and look for more indicators.

When school authorities are watching for gang infiltration on their campuses, they might look for teens wearing specific colors frequently. The Bloods wear red, and their rivals the Crips wear blue. The allies of the Bloods, the Latin Kings, wear gold and black. The Sureños wear blue and grey, and their rivals the Norteños wear red and black. Zeffs wear black. When the police come in and provide gang awareness seminars, they aren't saying to the teachers that a student wearing a red shirt is an indicator that this student is a member of the Bloods gang. They aren't saying that all red shirts are bad. Instead, they provide instruction to teachers and school authorities on how to perform assessments and to look for several indicators that could be giving you warning signs that there is gang activity progressing in their schools.

The more indicators that show up on the assessment list, the more likely it is indicative of intense gang activity within their schools. Some of the indicators on the assessment list weigh heavier than other indicators. If I see a group of students at my school campus that are frequently wearing red, that might score 15 points on the checklist. But if I see gang graffiti and gang symbols, that might score 30 points. Different weights for each indicator. The more frequently they perform an assessment, the better skillful they become in sniffing out enemy infiltration by criminal gangs.

In a similar manner, the checklist I am providing you with are patterns that I picked up and recognized in studying New Age Christians. If you see one trait on this list, and one trait only, it might not mean so much. But if you see 4 or 5 of these characteristics, then you probably need to intervene and take action.

Think of it like a point system. Then at the end of the assessment checklist, you add up the points. If you only have 5 points, it might not mean anything. But if you have 50 points, there is a good chance you've got an infiltrator on your hands and you need to do something about it. Fast.

Okay, so we are clear, right? To recap and summarize, the purpose of this teaching is to show you how to assess and ascertain if someone you know is active in the New Age Christian Movement. Just because you hear them use one word on the list, or one trait, does not mean much. They could still be a genuine Jesus Follower. But if you see 4 or 5 of the items on the list, then the chances are high you have a New Age Christian that is attempting to recruit you, or attempting to get into your church.

Okay good. So, my friends, these are more than a dozen indicators that I've drawn up over the years that have served as tools in trying to discern if a "new friend" is trying to recruit me into the Christian New Age Movement. It often starts with a new friend you've meet recently who is very pleasant, warm and friendly. You seem to hit it off very well with them. They are very likeable. Then one day, they invite you to come out to their church and "experience something new". Or they have a guest speaker coming in that they are very excited about, and they are inviting you to go hear this dynamic speaker with an international reputation. After all, they accepted your invitation to come to your church. Now they are inviting you to reciprocate and come to their church. They've created a little pressure and you feel obligated.

These tools have served me very well over the past few years. Ultimately you are asking God to give you discernment, and that voice of the Holy Spirit to guide you and alert you. Allow this list of indicators to be used in probing some of the things your new friend is telling you when trying to persuade you to come out to some of these "special meetings." Please heed my warning not to toy with it, and not to explore it. Do not become someone who chases signs and wonders, always pursuing the latest spectacular speaker or presenter, but yet risking your eternal salvation.

Can you risk your eternal salvation in becoming a New Age Christian? None of us will really know for sure until that day of judgment, but, yes I do believe you do lose your salvation if you get swept into the Movement. This seems evident in what Jesus said in Matthew 7:22-23.

If you have some questions, or you come across a new indicator that triggers a red flag, please pass it along to me and we'll review it. If it makes sense, we'll go ahead and add it to the list so that others might benefit from your trial and error experiences with this.

The purpose of this is to help you to weigh out and discern if a person that is attempting to recruit you is part of the New Age Christian Movement. Since it is often so hard to tell these days, here is a list that will assist you in weighing things out and coming to a final decision.

For the past ten years, there has been a massive influx of the occult sweeping into Christian churches. Hungry for an outpouring from God, countless churches have dropped their guard and embraced this movement, believing it to be the “great outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the last days.”

Sadly, in the early stages of recruitment, these people are very good at mirroring true Christianity. It is only a very small percentage of Christians that can pick up on the difference. You might be invited to their meetings and then see nothing out of the ordinary. You might not see the absurd behaviors of people barking like dogs or squealing like pigs. They seem to be working harder to hide such behaviors in the last two years or so.

I have compiled this list after studying New Age Christians fairly closely, and comparing it with genuine churches that really do embrace the power of the Holy Spirit. This list I’ve compiled is just to help you try to weed things out. I’ve looked for patterns in behavior and speech, things they say, what their goals are. We want the checklist to help aid us in our ability to discern when a new person we meet is an active New Age Christian.

Okay, here's the checklist. Remember, you generally want to see 3 to 5 of these traits in the person you are assessing. Don't jump to conclusions too hastily if you only see one or two. Okay?

Now when you start running into some of these New Age Christians, and you use this checklist, I promise you'll be amazed by how much of it really lines up with the person you are concerned about. Okay, let's begin...

IT'S OKAY FOR THEIR VISIONS AND PROPHECIES TO BE WRONG.

As mentioned earlier, the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement is a cult of signs and wonders. They are known for specific things: (a) miracles, signs and wonders; (b) prophecies from God, Jesus, angels and former saints; (c) healing the sick; and (d) casting out demons. We are not saying that these things are wrong, but we are saying that the forces that empowers the New Age Christian to do these things comes from the kingdom of darkness, not from God. It is a powerful deception in these last days, and it is meant to infiltrate the church and rob believers of their eternal salvation.

Because these supernatural experiences are powered by Satan's kingdom, we know they don't work all the time. The leaders of the New Age Christian Movement will say that if you get a prophecy or vision that is wrong, that this is perfectly okay. They'll say you are growing in your skills as a prophet or prophetess, and that you'll get better with the gifts as time goes forward.

Rick Joyner says, "There is a prophet named Bob Jones who was told that the general level of prophetic revelation in the church was about 65% accurate at this time. Some are only about 10% accurate, a very few of the most mature prophets are approaching 85% to 95% accuracy. Prophecy is increasing in purity, but there is still a long way to go for those who walk in this ministry" (The Prophetic Ministry, Rick Joyner-Morningstar Prophetic Newsletter. Vol. 3, No. 2, p. 2).

We know that the Bible indicates that demons have the ability to foretell some of the future. We remember in the Book of Acts how the servant girl had an evil spirit that could foretell the future, and her owners were making a lot of money from this demon spirit that was a fortune teller. We know that these demons are super intelligent beings. They have been alive for more than 6,000 years, and know a lot more than we do. If you and I learn a lot in just 50 years of life on earth, think of the knowledge and experience we would gain after 500 years. How about after 6,000 years. We would probably know human nature quite thoroughly, right? We would be able to predict patterns in what we see, and probably have some success at predicting future events. But only God can see the future with 100% accuracy.

Demons can never see the future with that kind of accuracy. This is one way of knowing for sure whether a person who proclaims themselves to be a prophet, but yet they are known for getting things wrong here and there. Especially with date setting of events.

But the prophet who presumes to speak a word in My name, which I have not commanded him to speak, or who speaks in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die.' And if you say in your heart, 'How shall we know the word which the Lord has not spoken?'—when a prophet speaks in the name of the Lord, if the thing does not happen or come to pass, that is the thing which the Lord has not spoken; the prophet has spoken it presumptuously; you shall not be afraid of him." (Deut. 18:20-22).

God sounds very serious about this, doesn't He? Kill a false prophet if they claim to be of God and yet get one thing wrong? Wow. The Toronto Blessing would not have stood a chance in those days, right? God did not, and still does not, tolerate false prophets. If they wrong once, they are false. Yes, you get just one prophecy wrong, just one vision wrong, that you are not of God. In fact, in the Old Testament, if such a thing happened, the elders were under command from God to take that prophet out of the city and stone them to death. That's how strongly the true Almighty God feels about those who claim to be prophets of God, and yet are false prophets that are not sanctioned by God. He does indeed take this matter very seriously. Yet, nowhere within the New Age Christian Movement is there ever going to be mention of that edict that all prophecies and all visions must be 100% accurate. Nor is there anything in the New Testament that cancels that specific requirement that a true prophet of God will always be completely accurate.

THE PERFECT WEDGE: ESSENTIAL OILS

This industry of Essential Oils is absolutely positively of occultic origin. When I was taking all of those occult classes back in the day, we constantly saw Essential Oils being made by witches, taught by witches and used by witches. Absolutely.

Now, however, it is being widely accepted into mainstream churches across America. I've seen classes on Essential Oils being offered at Christian bookstores. I've seen Essential Oils being endorsed by pastors from the pulpit.

What's the fuss all about? It's a Trojan horse. And a brilliant one, at that.

I can recall David Wilkerson back in the 1980s talking about how the occult will one day sweep through the churches across the United States. I remember thinking how ridiculously impossible that seemed back then.

I do remember once or twice trying to picture how in the world that could possibly happen. Would some witch show up at the local church wearing their black hood, jewels, occult regalia and robes? Would they offer classes in how to project your astral body out into the heavenlies. Would they teach you self meditation so that you could relax your anxiety.

They needed something totally innocuous and completely innocent. Something that did not have occult written all over it. Something like a health food or something innocent like that could bypass the usual sensors and screening abilities of the gatekeepers.

Essential Oils is absolutely the perfect gambit. The perfect wedge. So innocent, so subtle. Insipid and innocuous.

Right now, there are thousands of New Age Christians infiltrating churches and they are using Essential Oils to gain a legal occult foothold. They give you a few books to read, and the authors are deeply occultic. Read some of the descriptions of the Essential Oils, and you'll see that many of these descriptions are full of occultic terminology. This one balances your energy chakras, another one aids in opening your third eye (giving you sight into the astral planes), and another one helps your soul to resonate with higher powers. Check out the manufacturer of the Essential Oils. You will generally discover their New Age occult connections within several minutes of hunting around with Google.

Just what you have you done to yourself and to your church?

First off, you probably took some of their books, pamphlets, DVDs or products and brought them into your church or your home. These ambassadors of Essential Oils often give you materials to read, touting the alleged benefits of using Essential Oils. Now you have occultic books in your home and a legal doorway into your abode and into your church. This is now a legally installed portal by which enemy spirits can enter and leave whenever they wish. You gave them the right to do so by disobeying God and allowing the enemy to walk right through your front door and to set up shop. The perfect trap has been set. It starts slowly at first and then accelerates.

Any time we bring an object tied to the occult into our home, it gives those specific demons full legal right to enter into your home and into your life to afflict you. You have invited the demons to attack you and the people that live in your home. I have read countless testimonies from Christians who found themselves under a heavy curse because of an object they brought into their home.

I went through it myself in my own home, until I collected every thing that looked questionable and then spent several hours at a nearby campground burning all of the objects and praying over each item praying that the curse associated with that occultic object be broken in the name of Jesus Christ. Deuteronomy 7:26 states that if we bring such objects into our home, we receive the curse associated with those objects. Ignorance of these types of spiritual laws does not alleviate the impact and devastation they can bring into our lives.

Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house lest thou be a cursed thing like it; but thou shalt utterly abhor it for it is a cursed thing.
Deuteronomy 7:26

Clearly the scripture states when you bring a cursed object into your house, you become cursed like that object. There it is in black and white, clear as could be.

Secondly, you now have a witch being accepted into your church, and that witch is innocently spreading their wares. They are becoming rooted and accepted among your church body. They are like a very nasty weed that gets harder and harder to remove as the weeks go by. Its roots grow quickly and they grow deep. The process now begins. The longer you wait, the harder it becomes when you decide its time to remove it. Most churches that have fallen did so because they saw the danger and waited too long before making the decision to take action.

IMPORTANT TITLES THAT FLATTER THE EGO – APOSTLE, PROPHET, PROPHETESS, REVIVALIST, MISSIONARY, ETC

As previously mentioned, most cults have a common thread in that the frail human ego is being puffed up in some manner. Our toes curl when someone flatters us and strokes our ego. We love it. When you see a religious organization of any kind where its leaders are adopting fancy titles for themselves, always consider that an indicator flag that things are not right below the surface.

Particularly if the titles are out of the norm of conventional church life, such as Apostle and Prophet. Titles such as “Prophet Bill Davis”, “Prophetess Brenda Davis”, “Pastor Joe Conklin” and “Apostle John Carson” are popular among the teachers and seminar leaders within the New Age Christian Movement.

It’s only within this New Age Christian Movement that I have seen people referring to themselves as “Pastor” when they do not actually have a physical church congregation that they are pastoring. I suppose they view the world as their flock. Nor have they had any extensive formal training or a seminary that they have attended. But I see that changing, as well. Revivalists now are taking the time to do online training within denominations such as the Assemblies of God to put themselves within a position of greater influence. Global University allows you to study online and become a credentialed pastor within the Assemblies of God. As if things were not difficult enough, now small churches are being targeted by these New Age Christians that have invested the time to become credentialed in hopes that they have gained more legitimacy and can bypass the gatekeepers at your church. Smaller churches primed and pumped for revival are easier to take down by these shrewd lions out patrolling the church landscape to see what unsuspecting churches they may devour.

Satan’s trick is to lift up men and allow them to glorify themselves. The human heart is always hungry for recognition and to be admired by men and women. Giving themselves a fancy title feeds right into that carnal desire. The true Holy Spirit lifts up the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who is the One deserving of glory. One common thread among all New Age Christians is that there is almost always a level of self-glorification that is present to some degree. The human ego gets a few strokes.

LIES AND DECEPTIONS ARE AN ACCEPTABLE MEANS TO AN END

New Age Christians do not have a problem telling lies. Many of them believe that the ends justifies the means. This is to say that if they feel they need to stretch the truth, or to deceive you, then most of them are willing to do it. Over the past 2-3 years, they have changed their outlook, and have tried to work much harder at resembling other Christian churches. (Again, in the early years, they did not bother to do this. They were much more open. After extensive ridicule, they are now working hard at studying other Christian churches, and figuring out more how to “fit in” and look harmless.)

Many of these people are not familiar with the term “New Age Christian Movement”. For those who are, they will be quick to deny being a part of it, even if they do know that they are. Again, quite content to lie about it in hopes of recruiting you.

I remember several different Amway people trying to recruit me over the years. When I would ask them, “Is this a part of Amway?”, or, “Are you in Amway?” many would lie and say that they are not. Later I found out they were. An example of people who believe that the end result justifies whatever it takes to get you to sign on and become involved. They believe the end result justifies the means. Many other cults are the same way.

BUZZ WORDS, PHRASES AND OFTEN USED TERMINOLOGY

Like all cults, you eventually start to pick up some words they use fairly often, that genuine Christian churches do not use. These are often big indicators for me in trying to weigh out if someone I have met recently is actively involved with the New Age Christian Movement.

Many cults love to use words that make their system sound important, and intellectual, or special in some way. The New Age Christians are that way, as well.

If you are sitting in a diner or a coffee shop, and you overhear the conversation of two Jehovah's Witnesses, Mormons or Christian Scientists at the table next to you, you might recognize some of their buzz words and terminology that they frequently use. All cults are known to have a list of terms they use among one another rather frequently.

Here's a list that I have found frequently used among those in the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement:

Prophetic – If you hear this word being thrown around a lot, it is a very, very high chance the person you are wondering about is part of the New Age Christian Movement. They love to use this word. If you hear the phrase, “prophetic ministry” or “prophetic anointing”, it is 99% guaranteed you’ve got a person very actively involved with the New Age Christian Movement. They have “prophetic teachers” and “prophetic worship music” and “prophetic visionaries” and so on. They love that word quite a bit.

Now don't get excited. Remember what I said at the beginning. Just because your pastor uses the word “prophetic” next Sunday, don't assume he has crossed the dark side. You want to look for 4 or 5 of these red flags before you come to any conclusions. Clear?

If you wish, you can use the Google site command to see how many pages a specific word appears on a website. You might check to see how many pages the word “prophetic” appears on the website of a church or a conference speaker that you are concerned about. I'll show you how to use the Google site command shortly. It is an incredibly powerful tool that will aid you in your research.

Soaking – This is a belief system within the New Age Christian Movement whereby you listen to a specific type of music (which they call “soaking music”), and it brings you closer to God. The music they listen to is New Age music. If you are a Christian that came out of the occult, you instantly know it when you hear it. They deny that of course, but it is. If you don't have a background in the occult, go to any New Age bookstore, listen to the music played there, and it is identical. You hear the same exact music when you walk into every New Age bookstore in the entire country. But the New Age Christians call it "soaking music". You'll hear them say, "We went to church Saturday night and spent the whole night soaking." That means that they sat around, listened to New Age music, and zoned out for a few hours.

Apostolic – Another word they throw around quite often. They sometimes refer to themselves as the Apostolic Movement, or an apostolic church. (Different than the denomination, of course.) They use it more as an adjective.

Charismatic – They use this term, but they use it incorrectly. The charismatic movement, in its day back in the 1980s, was quite a different movement than the New Age Christian Movement. However, today the New Age Christians have adopted the term. Today, the Charismatic movement has died out, and those that use it, are most likely now part of the New Age Christians Movement.

At first look, the two movements seem very similar, but they are very different. However, there are still true Pentecostal churches that still use the term "charismatic", and some of these churches are still true Christian churches. From what I have seen, those churches that still employ the term "charismatic" when referring to themselves tend to be smaller churches with 50 to 75 people, not really a big main stream church. (Such churches should stop using the term, since it is so widely used by New Age Christians. Most of these little churches have no idea about the New Age Christians, and are completely unaware of the movement and all that it entails.)

The original charismatic movement in the 1980s did indeed have its problems, its fallacies and its questionable aspects that did not line up with Scripture. I went to many meetings in the 1980s. I did not agree with all that I saw. However, you did not see their teachers and promoters bringing in occult practices and occult teachings and dressing it all up in Christian terminology. Which is what we are looking at today with the New Age Christian Movement.

Miracles, Signs and Wonders – This is a biggie. The New Age Christians absolutely fully obsessed with signs and wonders. It is an obsession like no other. They are signs and wonders junkies. Literally. They live it and breath it. The gospel of the New Age Christian is a gospel of miracles, signs and wonders.

They will run from one conference to the next, chasing the latest speaker who is demonstrating powerful signs and wonders. If a lecturer can demonstrate any significant signs and wonders, that person is immediately accepted, as is all of the nonsense they might be teaching. Hook, line and sinker. Gone are the days of testing a spirit. Work a few miracles, and you are in, no questions asked.

Please understand that the power working these miracles is a true power. An unholy occult power. They are not fake signs and wonders. They are not fake miracles cooked up by clever and theatrical charlatans. The power they employ and interact with is very real. The difference is, of course, the source of the power. The source of power within the New Age Christians is Satan and his demons, not God. The same demons that were in charge of the occult when I was active, are now the same demons that have created and are managing the New Age Christian Movement. We are witnessing an occult revival, not a Holy Spirit revival.

The Bible tells us that the Antichrist will unleash a revival of occult power and create his own one world religion. I believe that the New Age Christians are ramping up and prepping the world for that day. Many in the New Age Christian Movement will admire the Antichrist for his great occultic powers and his ability to work astounding miracles. These people are being conditioned to chase after the latest speaker and seminar leader who has demonstrated even more amazing miracles than the last fellow. They run and flock to see and witness these manifestations with their own eyes. Imagine how they'll run after the evil one when he comes on the scene with astounding miracles that boggle the mind.

Impartation – Another big term among New Age Christians. In their eyes, an “impartation” is when a gifted teacher or seminar leader lays their hands upon you, and they request God to take their own gifts and pass them on to you. They'll even give you a few Bible passages that seem to back this up. When I attended that first meeting of the New Age Christians several years ago, I stood in line to receive the “impartation” from one of the conference speakers.

I did not feel anything at the time they laid hands on me and prayed over me. The next day, however, was hellish. I knew that something had entered my body and was speaking to me. It was flooding my mind with its thoughts. I began praying in earnest, realizing that I had been invaded by a spirit entity that was talking to me and pushing its will upon me.

I knew what having a demon felt like. I knew I was in trouble. While praying to the Lord asking for help, I saw in my a spirit on the top of my head with 8 tentacles coming down into various parts of my body. In a way, it looked somewhat like a jelly fish, but only had those eight tentacles. It was pinkish in color, and semi transparent. I was shocked by what I saw and began pleading out to God to intervene and remove this spirit from me. I prayed and read scripture and sought the Lord for 14 solid hours that day. Finally, the Lord intervened, and ordered the spirit to leave me.

When you stand in line to receive an impartation from a leader in the New Age Christian Movement, you are granting permission for that man or woman to lay their hands on you and transfer a demon from themselves to you.

And you know what is really interesting? When Todd Bentley had his famous revival meetings in Florida, one of his assistant speakers was on stage talking about seeing this same exact demon that I saw years earlier. I forget the context of what he said and why he was talking about this particular type of demon, but it was enough for me to confirm what I had seen during those 14 hours of praying for release that day several years ago.

Healing – I reluctantly add this to the list, because there are still genuine Christian churches out there that are still dedicated to the true Jesus Christ, and are still experiencing genuine healings from the power of the true God and the true Holy Spirit. However, to me, if I hear a person talking about healings quite frequently, it now raises a flag for me, and I begin to investigate a little further to see if the person is actively involved with the New Age Christian Movement. The New Age Christian is obsessed with the supernatural. Will Satan and his demons perform healings? Absolutely. Ask any missionary who has been overseas in the third world countries, and they will tell you plenty of stories of demonic witch doctors who can heal their followers from all kinds of diseases. You can go to Google and read up on Edgar Cayce. His followers documented more than 3,000 documented healings, but it was all purely demonic healings. None of those healings were from God. Satan is more than happy to heal your body in exchange for gaining your heart and your soul.

Behold, I Am Doing a New Thing – This phrase comes up a lot when these New Age Christian recruiters are praying over a possible recruit in hopes of bringing them into the New Age Christian Movement. It implies that the old, tried and true methods of God are being terminated, and God has now decided to try new strategies and new approaches. The phrase comes from Isaiah 43:19, but it comes up quite a lot in the movement during their prophecy sessions.

The International House of Prayer (also referred to as “IHOP”) – An early organization that preceded the current New Age Christian Movement. Any person, speaker or teacher affiliated in any manner with IHOP is 100% positively active with the Toronto Blessing and New Age Christian Movement. Their website is: www.ihop.org

Here are a collection of terms that I have often heard thrown around in conversations with recruiters in the New Age Christian Movement. (Again, the words are not “bad words”, and are not a positive indicator. They are simply words that are used very frequently within the New Age Christian Movement, and not so excessively among churches outside of the New Age Christian Movement. This means that if your pastor uses one of these words in one of his sermons, don’t go beating him up over it. But if someone keeps inviting you out to meetings, and you hear several of these words frequently, then start being on the lookout for some of the other indicators on this list. Makes sense, right?)

If you have been involved with the New Age, Masons or the occult in the past, you'll immediately recognize a number of these as words that were actively thrown around in your occult training classes. If you seen these words thrown around a lot by the person trying to recruit you, consider it a flag, and a yellow caution light to dig a little deeper.

If you have absolutely no exposure at all to the occult or the New Age, it might help you to get some education exposing the main teachings of the New Age. The reason for this is that the Bible tells us that in the last days, the occult will explode on the scene. It's going to eventually touch your life in one manner or another, so it will help you to recognize it immediately. If not for yourself, than to help your loved ones steer clear of it. Especially young people. The occult is huge in the culture of teens and young adults. You see it all over television shows and movies that are geared for this age group.

With this list -- on their own, of course, you do not have a definite indicator if you see just one or two of these words popping up. Some might. Some weigh more than others, such as prophetic, orb and portal. But, do look to see if some of the other indicators outlined in this book start popping up, as well.

Among New Age Christians, beautiful pictures of animals are fairly common, such as lions and eagles.

CONFERENCES AND SEMINARS FOR NEW AGE CHRISTIANS

Running around to 3 and 4-day conferences hosting several seminar leaders is a very popular outing among followers, teachers and recruiters among the New Age Christians. It's a way of life for many New Age Christians. They are like signs and wonders junkies. They need another fix. They need the next experience. You'll see followers generally attending 3 to 5 out of state conferences through out the year. They'll be running off to Arizona, Florida, or California to attend some big conference where there might be 800 to 1500 other New Age Christians coming together for 3 days to hear a long roster of seminar leaders.

Or, their local church is having a special dynamic speaker coming out in the next few weeks, and the whole church is buzzing with the exciting news. They launch a strong campaign and hammer the church goers with the constant message of inviting your friends and loved ones to come out and see this amazing guest speaker coming to town. Churches that are infested with New Age Christians will invite such guest speakers out maybe five to seven times a year. It creates a spark that keeps things going, and is a tool for recruiting new converts to the New Age Christianity.

The recruiters go into overdrive, because they know this is their window of opportunity to bring visitors to their church to see this exciting guy perform amazing signs and wonders. They came out to visit you at your church, and now they pressure you to come to their church and experience this guest speaker.

Somehow, it seems a little easier for followers to talk you into going to hear a dynamic guest speaker, than to try to talk you into going to a typical Sunday service. There is also the old sales tool of creating a time urgency. You have to decide now, because he is only here for 3 days. A once in a lifetime opportunity. He might not come this way again for another five years.

Or, the person recruiting you might try to persuade you to tag along with them to attend one of these conferences. Do not go. Do not toy with this stuff.

While there is not one central office overseeing the New Age Christians, like the JW's have a world headquarters based in New York, they do have a central website. Their website is called "The Elijah List". Their e-newsletter goes out to several hundred thousand New Age Christians all around the world. If you hear them mention "Elijah List", you've definitely got yourself a New Age Christian that is trying to recruit you.

Let's check out some of the conference titles that we see on the Elijah List website. Take note. When you look at the titles of these upcoming conferences, you'll see several of the words on the warning list I gave you earlier coming up in these titles for conferences. Words such as: apostolic, prophetic, secrets revealed, healing, impartation. And you'll also see them giving themselves fancy titles that inflate their ego. Such as Prophet and Apostle.

Check out the description for the conference called "School of the Prophetic, Signs and Wonders". This is what it says:

The heart of Global Awakening is to equip the body of Christ to walk in the prophetic, healing, signs and wonders. The School of the Prophetic is designed to train and activate prophetic ministry and to experience the spirit of prophecy released in our midst. The goal is to be a signs and wonders generation that is prepared to carry out the great harvest of souls that has been prophesied over this awesome generation.

Topics for the School of the Prophetic, Signs and Wonders include: Biblical basis of prophecy, prophetic history, receiving - interpreting - applying prophetic words, prophetic protocol, prophetic worship, daily prophetic activations, signs and wonders evangelism, and open prophetic ministry meetings each evening.

And I love the title for Randy Clark's school:

"The Randy Clark Global Awakening School of the Supernatural"

(Note: The name of his school has been modified several times over the years, but this was the name that was originally posted on his website when he first started his school.)

One of my friends that got swept up into the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement while attending Marlton Assembly of God and becoming active with their Healing Rooms ministry. She began attending the regional training meetings held by the Healing Rooms organization. She wanted that same power to work miracles, signs and wonders. She wanted that holy laughter and to become drunk in the spirit. She hungered for signs and wonders. She ran out to every conference in the area.

Wanting more, she sold her home and went to live at Randy Clark's school for two years. Her husband quit his six figure position with the local hospital. They went on Randy Clark's missions trip to Brazil. For some reason, the TB'ers can more way more miracles while in Brazil than they can do here back in the United States. I have a few theories on that, but nothing confirmed as of yet. Many of these third-world countries are also rampant with demonic spirits completely unrestrained. If you go to places like Africa, the Philippines, or Haiti you see how powerful the demonic manifestations are.

While in Brazil, she experienced a horrible life-scarring trauma. She was raped by a demon spirit. Is that even possible? Yes, read Genesis 6. You can look up Incubus spirit in the Miriam-Webber dictionary. It is traumatic enough being raped by a man, but even more horrifying to be raped by an invisible demonic spirit. She told the Randy Clark staff people about the horrors of the night before. They responded by saying that God had sex with her, and that she should be joyful about being chosen and set apart for such a divine experience. She should compare her experience to that of God impregnating Mary with the seed of the son of God.

You would think that would shock her and wake her up to the realities of what she was involved with, right? No, not at all. She brushed it off. She was angry at me for confronting her about Randy Clark. "Touch not God's anointed!" "Satan cannot cast out Satan!" Ugh. Brainwashed. Two years later, she sent her sixteen year old daughter with Randy Clark on another trip to Brazil, while she herself stayed home. I kid you not. True story. Such insanity! She knew my full life story and the extensive involvement with the occult, and how her TB instructors were teaching her the same techniques and practices I learned in the occult. Her lust for supernatural experiences overrode her brain's ability to think rationally.

As I said before, the Toronto Blessing experience is like the high that junkies enjoy with Heroin. Once you get that first hit and enjoy that first high, nothing else in life matters. You want it all the time. You constantly think about it and lust for that experience again and again. You want to go deeper into that mystical world and enjoy wilder supernatural experiences. You view your prior Christian existence as dull and monotonous. You refuse to return back to that type of lifestyle. Why should you when you can enjoy leaving your body and traveling astral realms and seeing amazing wonders.

She eventually grew weary of Randy Clark and decided it's time for an upgrade. Like the junkie who wants a stronger high. She left Randy Clark and moved to South Carolina to join the Toronto Blessing kingpin, Rick Joyner. He is a big-time mover and shaker within the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement. He has written over 40 books on various TB topics, and Charisma Magazine once reported that he was bringing in $88 Million per year (Joyner disputed that, but Charisma stood by it). He's the guy who spent $1.6 Million in 2004 and purchased a portion of the former 2300 acres of the Heritage USA property which was owned by Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker in Fort Mill, South Carolina and had been owned for several years by Earl Couston of Coulston Enterprises. Coulston Enterprises used another chunk of Heritage USA and built several hundred homes there, calling it Regal Manor. Joyner turned it into his international headquarters for Heritage International Ministries, Heritage International Conference Center, MorningStar Fellowship Church, MorningStar University and their private school for grades k-12 called Comenius School for Creative Leadership (www.comeniusschool.com).

At this school they begin training young children in the doctrines of the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement at a very young age. Yes, kindergarten. They hold conferences in teaching elementary school children how to become a prophet (meaning spirit medium) and how to work miracles, signs and wonders. These conferences for children draw in parents with their young children from all over the world. At their CSCL school, Students attend school only 4 days a week, and they have a policy of never giving children any homework outside of school hours. You can bet children push their parents hard to enroll in that school, right? You can confirm that on their website. Your guess is as good as mine regarding how prepared they are for college and the real world. Their objective is to raise up a super army of next generation TB revivalists and evangelists. I know one of their CSCL high school graduates quick college after just day because it was too overwhelming for him. After years of doing no homework he now was facing the prospect of doing college homework 5 to 10 hours a day and that thought just fried his brain. Forget college, I'm out of here! We wonder why the youth of today all have this deep seated vision of themselves living the easy life, and getting rich quick any hard work involved.

Just browsing their CSCL website, I see that the third grade class has upcoming dates in October 2015 where the children will be discussing the Islamic invasion of Spain and Africa, drawing maps of the Islamic empire, and dressing up in Moorish ruler's tunic, robe and turban. Students are to color in pictures of an Islamic mosque. Ummm... Wow... I'll hold my comments on such third-grade Islamic sensitivity classes for another time.

WHO ARE THEIR TARGETS? WHO ARE THE NEW AGE CHRISTIANS SEEKING?

We touched on this a little bit earlier. When a true Christian church seeks to go out and evangelize, they seek the unsaved and the lost. Makes sense, right? Of course.

This is not the case with the New Age Christian. They are very aggressive in recruiting Christian believers. That is always their primary target. Their goal of the demons empowering this movement is to win over the Bible believing Christian and get them to forfeit eternal salvation. If you hold any higher level leadership position in any church, then you are a juicy target to them. They will fall over themselves to recruit you. A real prize for them is a worship leader. I've been shocked to go out to solid Christian churches, and later come to realize that the worship leader in that church is very active with the New Age Christian Movement. A good number of solid Christian churches have been invaded by going through the worship leader.

Right now there are several thousand churches of New Age Christians across America. Of those, I cannot think of a single church that was STARTED initially as a New Age Christian Church. This means that almost every single one of these churches was once a normal healthy church that was infiltrated and converted over to a New Age Christian Church. Most of these were small independent churches. Most were looking for a revival of the Holy Ghost, meaning they were yearning for supernatural manifestations of the power of God in their lives. They were hungry for the supernatural. When a church is in that frame of mind, the enemy is more than happy to show up with a counterfeit showcase of false signs and wonders. They can put on quite a show. I cannot think of any passage in the Bible where they were actively seeking "revival". They never went running after signs and wonders like we see people doing today. In fact, the word "revival" does not appear one single time in the Bible. The word "repent" appears more than 100 times in the Bible.

Am I saying it is wrong to be hungry for revival in your church? Not exactly. Instead, I am suggesting that you instead become hungry for repentance in your church. Your people are certainly much more safe from outside occult-based deceptions when you are seeking repentance in your congregation versus seeking revival.

SHOFARS, BANNERS, DRUMMING MUSIC AND NEW AGE SOAKING MUSIC.

Sometimes when you are being recruited, they will give you some “worship music” to listen to. I can remember quite a few instances where someone asked me, “Do you think so and so is part of that New Age Christian thing you’ve been talking about? They gave me a tape recording of this odd worship music and told me to listen to it.” When I hear the music, sure enough, it is the New Age soaking music mentioned earlier. And, it was given to them by the worship leader of their church.

Another form of music a percentage of them listen to will be music that has quite a lot of drumming in it. Sometimes they will give you a tape with mostly all repetitive drumming, over and over again. Those of us who came out of the occult can remember occult groups that were very active in using drumming music. It helps them achieve a trance state very quickly. Once in that trance state, it is so much easier for demons to have access to you. When in that trance state, that third eye can be opened up for you to see the spiritual realm with the power of demons that are working with you. Or, for your spirit body to leave your physical body and begin traveling the astral realms with the help of your new demonic spirit guide friend. If some Christian is giving you tapes to listen to, and it’s a lot of drumming music, or new age spacey music that they call soaking music, it should raise a red flag and urge you to look a little deeper.

Once you have been coming to their meetings for a while, you might see a few strange and peculiar things starting to pop up here and there. You might see a few people up front waving colorful flags or banners around. You might see people bringing their Shofars to the services. The Shofar is a ram’s horn trumpet that was used back in the Old Testament days. You might see a group of 6 to 10 people in a circle, dancing around in the circle, almost like a slow motion square dance of sorts. You might see large colorful paintings of animals such as lions and eagles hanging on the walls of the church, or the pastor’s office.

Not to say that Shofars are wrong, banner waving is wrong, or that dancing in church is wrong. Certainly not saying that large paintings of lions or eagles are wrong. Just saying that you generally don’t see these behaviors anywhere else other than in a church that has been swept into the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement. These are just a few yellow cautionary flags or yellow warning indicators that are lighting up to alert you to the possibility that you might have an occult group on your hands, and that you would be prudent to dig a little further to see what other indicators you might find that can allow you to confirm your suspicions.

THEIR NEWSLETTER – “THE ELIJAH LIST”

Fortunately for us, they have a very large centralized newsletter that goes out by email quite frequently. The website for this newsletter is: www.elijahlist.com. If the person you are wondering about is sending you email copies of the Elijah List newsletter, then you definitely have a very active New Age Christian recruiter on your hands. Absolutely 100% positive confirmation. You are on their target list, and they are actively recruiting you. Go to the links page on this website. <http://www.elijahlist.com/links.html>

Get familiar with the names of the people on there. If your new friend mentions one of these names as a big speaker coming to their church, you know that they have been targeted for infiltration by the New Age Christian Movement.

You might be tempted to subscribe to their newsletter, maybe to keep up to date on their teachings, but I would strongly recommend against it. When you allow occult objects into your home of any kind, you give permission to those spirits tied to it to come and enter your home and afflict your life. All such doors need to be closed, and kept closed. Christians have enough trouble in the world these days without opening doors and granting legal access to Satan's minions.

Using the Google site command, the Elijah List has been a great tool in filtering out conferences, seminars, teachers and speakers. The Elijah List has some 34,000 pages to it. With the Google site command, you can scan all of those pages looking to see if some guest speaker or conference leader is listed on that website. If they are, chances are extremely high that the speaker or teacher is a New Age Christian. Here is a quick example:

"revivalist" site:www.elijahlist.com

We see this term appears on over 830 pages within the Elijah List website. The term 'revivalist' is one of the favorite terms used by the New Age Christians. They coined the term. If you are not one, never use that term. It is exclusively theirs. Helps the rest of us to weed them out.

If you are not familiar with the Google site command, you will want to learn this tool inside out. It is very, very effective. Several examples of its' use will be outlined in the next section.

SPEAKERS, TEACHERS AND THE GOOGLE SITE COMMAND

There are several thousand seminar speakers and teachers who travel the United States, and the world, spreading the Toronto Blessing or the New Age Christian Movement. Any speaker or teacher that is mentioned more than once on the Elijah List website is highly likely an active follower of the Toronto Blessing or the New Age Christian Movement.

Let's say you get a letter or a phone call from someone who wants to bring a teacher by the name of Randy Clark out to speak at your church on an upcoming Sunday morning. Perhaps your pastor will be away on a trip, or a vacation, and they are hoping you'll hire Randy Clark as a guest speaker.

They tell you all kinds of wonderful things about Randy Clark, and how God is using Randy Clark in mighty outreaches all around the world. Remember the golden rule. Just because a ministry has prophecies, miracles, signs, wonders, healings and demons are cast out, it does not at all mean that the ministry is a Godly one. Stop automatically assuming that these signs and wonders mean it is from God (Matthew 7:22). This counterfeit movement is exceptionally skillful in working powerful false signs and wonders. It is a signs and wonders cult. You start looking into this new speaker they are all talking about that is traveling through your area. You get a funny feeling in your stomach when talking with the pitch man, and you are curious to see if the person might be an active teacher or active recruiter within the Toronto Blessing or New Age Christian Movement.

Here is one quick way of looking into this speaker, teacher or evangelist.

There is a cool Google command that will enable you to search the 43,000 pages of the Elijah List website, or the Charisma Magazine website, to see if a suspected teacher or speaker is mentioned somewhere on their website.

This cool command is called the "Google Site Command".

Here's how it works. You go to Google, and type this in:

"randy clark" site:www.elijahlist.com

"randy clark" site:www.charismamag.com

You put the person's name within the quotes. Then you have the word SITE with a colon. Then, no space after that, you type the website for the Elijah List.

Any teacher or seminar leader who is a big name within the New Age Christian Movement will come up on the Elijah List website. Sure enough, we see that Randy Clark is mentioned on more than 500 pages within the Elijah List website. He appears on more than 2,900 pages of the Charisma Magazine website.

If the name comes up hundreds of times on the Elijah List or Charisma Magazine, then, yes, you have a very high chance that your guest speaker is very active within the New Age Christian Movement. You've pretty much confirmed that the speaker attempting to get hired to speak at your church is an active teacher or recruiter within the New Age Christian Movement. When my own pastor announces a speaker that is coming within the next few weeks, the first thing I do is run that Google site command and see if the name appears on the Elijah List website or Charisma Magazine.

Allow this to become a routine habit of running this quick and easy Google search any time someone wants to come speak at your church, or a friend invites you to accompany them to a weekend conference or to come hear a new speaker at their own church.

Now what if their name does not come up there? Does that mean they are not part of the New Age Christian Movement? Definitely not. There are thousands of these teachers running around the country spreading the New Age Christian Movement and trying to make a name for themselves within the movement. The speaker approaching your church might be active with the New Age Christian Movement, but is trying to work their way up and has not yet reached a level of being well known within the movement.

Remember, if they invade a church and infest it, that is a very big win for them. Kind of like the Wyle E Coyote on the old Road Runner cartoons looking at a chicken hawk and seeing a big juicy meal. This is honestly how they view infiltrating Christian churches as a very, very big win for themselves. It is a prize. Where I live, the church has around 2,000 people. We get the New Age Christians slipping in from time to time.

I mentioned earlier that you can use the site command to see how often a specific buzz word can be found on a suspect website. For example, you can use the word "prophetic" (definitely their most favorite buzz word of all), and see how many times that word comes up on a church or ministry that you are looking into.

You find out their website address, and use the site command like this:

prophetic site:<https://globalawakening.com>

We see that this word comes up on over 830 pages of this website. Bingo! You can try out some of the other major keywords used by the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement.

apostolic site:<https://globalawakening.com>

That comes up on over 3800 pages.

wonders site:<https://globalawakening.com>

That comes up on over 350 pages.

healing site:<https://globalawakening.com>

That comes up on over 3,850 pages.

impart site:<https://globalawakening.com>

That comes up on over 260 pages.

anointing site:<https://globalawakening.com>

That comes up on over 470 pages.

This particular website belongs to Randy Clark, the devil who boasts he was the first one responsible for bringing the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement here to the United States. He has a particularly large website with over 17,800 pages. We can just use the site command without a word to see how large a target website is, like this:

site:<https://globalawakening.com>

The suspect website you are looking into might be much smaller. Let's say it is a church you are concerned about, and maybe that church website only has 30 pages. You can still use the same strategies just outlined, looking for keywords such as prophetic. But now keep in mind that you have a smaller number of pages, so look at it in terms of a percentage. If your target website has 30 pages, and the word prophetic comes up on 15 of those pages, that's 50% saturation. That's fairly high, right? With a 50% search on a specific keyword, I would strongly feel that the church I am concerned about is very likely to be a Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Church.

You can also use the Google site command to also look for the names of specific speakers. If you see 1 to 3 guest speakers that you know are part of the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement, and they have spoken at a specific church in the past few years, then that seems a 100% confirmation. Some church websites don't contain older pages of past speakers, but many churches do keep these old pages on their web server.

GOD TV, SID ROTH, TODD BENTLEY AND CHARISMA MAGAZINE

Founded in 1995 by Wendy and Rory Alec, God TV is a cable television station that is used to host speakers, teachers and seminar leaders that are with the Toronto Blessing or New Age Christian Movement. They are completely sold out to this movement. Do not be tricked or duped into watching anything on this cable channel. If you hear them talking about GodTV, chances are 99.9% they are a New Age Christian. This cable service also hosts some genuine Christian programs to appear legitimate to those not in the know, but their overall focus and primary objective is to get you into the Toronto Blessing. Do not be lured in. Do not become entangled by falling for this trick. Remember the Ebola metaphor? View all of these as being contaminated with Ebola and have nothing to do with any of them.

Always, always, always be leery of any church or ministry that endorses both legitimate Christian speakers as well as Toronto Blessing speakers. This is a very old tactic where they are working hard to appear on the up and up, hoping to entrap the unsuspecting Christian. It is an effective strategy that does indeed work. If you think about it, Satan has been mixing lies with truth since the beginning of time. In the Garden of Eden, that was his key strategy, mixing truth with lies. Whenever the Bible records Satan speaking, he is always mixing truth with lies. Did the same thing when he appeared to Jesus, didn't he. All of his servants through the centuries have used that strategy, as well. If you think of any evil dictators throughout history that were just evil simply incarnate on Earth, such as Hitler, Stalin, Lenin, Hussein, that's a strategy they frequently employed to deceive the masses. Develop your discernment, and be alert to someone that mixes lies with truth. There is always a small wedge, sometimes barely visible. If you take the bait, the wedge gradually gets wider and wider.

Sometimes an evangelist or a revivalist with the Toronto Blessing will give you a DVD of a recording of one of the episodes of Sid Roth's television show, "It's Supernatural". Or they might give you a copy of Charisma Magazine, asking you to read some of the articles published there. Both are red flags that indicate your new friend is very likely with the Toronto Blessing.

Sid launched his show in 1996, and the show is broadcast on Daystar, Trinity Broadcasting Network ("TBN"), and on several networks and satellite programs. Sid Roth heavily praised Todd Bentley in saying, "God is using Todd Bentley in the greatest healing revival since Azusa Street." Talk about an enthusiastic endorsement from Sid Roth! With that statement alone there should be no question as to where Sid Roth's loyalties lie, let alone all of the promotion Sid does for the Toronto Blessing through his television show. Sid is a one-man PR Army for New Age Christians.

Todd Bentley is the lunatic that goes into graveyards and lays on the graves of dead people in hopes of gaining their anointing. The only spirits hanging out in graveyards are demons. He has countless tattoos all over his body, many of which look heavily demonic. He claims he got those tattoos prior to becoming a Christian, but it was later confirmed by people that worked with him in his traveling ministry that he had absolutely no tattoos six years earlier.

Bentley's Lakeland Revival had started on April 2, 2008 and ended August 23, 2008. On July 9, 2008, Nightline interviewed Todd Bentley in a nationally aired program, repeatedly asking for any documentation at all that would prove healings and miracles were taking place. Interestingly, Bentley's people were not able to provide any proofs whatsoever that legitimate documented medical healings had indeed taken place. This simply means a doctor stating that his patient had a specific disease prior to Bentley's Toronto Blessing Revival, but then it was gone after the revival meeting. Simple, right? But they could not produce one single case among the hundreds of thousands that had flown in from all over the world to see Bentley's circus maximum live and in person.

Why do I give so much focus on Todd Bentley even though some view him as "old news"? A few reasons. First, he loves the limelight too much, and I hear rumors from time to time that he is planning a massive comeback. He rocked the whole world in 2008, and hungers to do it again. Secondly, he is the revered golden child of the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement. He heralds their most trusted beliefs and endeavors. If you want to know what New Age Christianity is truly all about, examine Todd Bentley's life, his preaching and his teachings. After Todd Bentley's heavily televised revival meetings in 2008, the leaders of this movement received a lot of flack from true Christian churches, pastors and teachers who pointed out their extensive heresy. The Toronto Blessing leaders got smarter, and realized they could make more impact by tightening up their public image and working harder to more closely resemble true Christian revivals. In the years since Bentley's revival meetings, it has now gotten much more difficult to tell them apart. Now you see the more erratic behaviors generally when you go to the regional meetings of true diehard Toronto Blessing believers, or head out to their churches in California where the manifestations often go unbridled. If you live in more conservative areas, you are going to see mostly the whitewashed revivalists who are working more consciously to fit in and not raise your suspicions. Because of Todd Bentley's circus maximus, the TB'ers have undergone a massive PR transformation and it has become more increasingly difficult for the Christian to pick up on what is really going on with this false movement.

Today, the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement with their whitewashed New Age Christians work very hard to resemble true Christianity in every conceivable way. They have become much more adept and proficient and fooling experienced pastors and church leaders. Those small churches that are always preaching for revival now fall to this powerful deception so much more easily with the rebooted Toronto Blessing 2.0 version. The words of Jesus now fit perfectly when He foretold in the end days that false teachers and false prophets would be so powerful that they would almost fool the elect if that were possible. This fully and completely describes the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement with their powerful demonically empowered signs and wonders.

“For false christs and false prophets will rise and show great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect.”
Mark 13:22 and Mark 24:24

Several weeks after Sid Roth’s high praise of Bentley, news media throughout the country exposed Todd Bentley as having cheated on his wife countless times during that Lakeland Revival in having sex with one of his interns. He later divorced his wife to marry that intern. In an article printed a year later in Charisma Magazine, Rick Joyner lied and said that Todd Bentley had not had sex with the intern during the revival meetings taking place the previous year. A year too late, as many news outlets had already confirmed that the adulterous relationship had indeed taken place after hours numerous times during the Lakeland Revival meetings.

Leery of Bentley’s endless scandals and lies, in August of 2012, the United Kingdom refused to allow Bentley to enter and stage his revival meetings in their country. They stated in an official press release, “The government makes no apologies for refusing people access to the UK if we believe they are not conducive to the public good. Coming here is a privilege that we refuse to extend to those who might seek to undermine our society.” It would seem that Parliament is a lot more discerning than many American churches who have bought into these lies and thrown their people into the devil’s clutches with this false revival.

Bentley offended them even more the following month when a member of their Parliament, Malcolm Wicks, had died at age 65 and Bentley commented that his death was due to that leader working to bar Bentley’s entrance into the United Kingdom the month before.

YouTube has numerous videos of Todd Bentley during that revival kicking people, punching people, slapping people, all because the “Holy Spirit” told him to do so. He injured quite a number of people, such as several senior citizens he kicked because the spirit told him to do so. (Probably a legitimate Christian that fell for the hype and one of Bentley's demons despised the poor soul.)

Bentley talked frequently of visitations by a female angel named Emma that would appear to him and teach him some of the bizarre doctrines that he shared with his audiences. Emma, he said, is the "angel of the prophetic". When asked about the angel Emma, Bentley said God told him (Bentley) that he has to get people to believe in that angel Emma. He stated God said to him, "Todd, you gotta get the people to believe in the angel.' I said, 'God, why do I want people to believe in the angel, isn't it about getting the people to believe in Jesus?' He said, 'The people already believe in Jesus, but the church doesn't believe in the supernatural.' The church has no problem believing in Jesus. But what we don't believe in is the supernatural." This quote certainly sheds some critical insight into his theology.

Bentley was so enamored with this demonic spirit Emma, that he tattooed himself with Japanese with three large Japanese Kanji symbols on his left arm, proclaiming his allegiance to this demon. Although not entirely correct Japanese, the symbols appear to be attempting to say, "Emma the Great King".

Since he tattooed himself with Japanese characters, it is intriguing to note that in Japanese Buddhism, Emma-O is the demon god of hell that judges the dead, and decides to what depth of torment souls will be cast into. Be reminded that Bentley got himself tattooed years after he was already traveling the country preaching his revival meetings. He said that God told him to get all of those tattoos, even the ones that look so heavily demonic. He completely ignored Leviticus 19:28, which states, "'You shall not make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you: I am the LORD". God will never, ever contradict His Word. Never.

In her book “Unbroken Curses”, Dr. Rebecca Brown mentions that demons love to have their servants get tattoos which signify they are owned and ruled by that specific demon. Seems to be the case with Bentley’s demon Emma.

Bentley said that Emma emits beautiful colors and brilliant light. That statement seems confirmed by what Paul wrote to the Corinthians, were Satan transforms himself into an angel of light.

“And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.”

2 Corinthians 11:14-15

Here's what Bentley said about his angel Emma. "I attended a church service in Beulah, North Dakota. In the middle of the meeting an angel glided in. As I stared wide-eyed at the angel, I heard the Lord tell me that this was the same angel that was involved with the prophetic movement in Kansas City. The angel floated a couple of inches off the floor emitting a brilliant light and colors. She floated across the floor. She appeared young – about 20 years old – but old at the same time. It was as though she carried the wisdom, virtue, and grace of Proverbs 31."

The angel Emma had appeared to Bentley while he was at one Assemblies of God church. Bentley states that a prophetic spirit had come upon the wife of the pastor. Look how he describes this manifestation, "during this visitation, the pastor's wife got totally whacked by the Holy Ghost. She began running around barking like a dog or squawking like a chicken as a powerful prophetic spirit came on her. Also, as this prophetic anointing came on her, she started getting phone numbers of complete strangers and calling them up on the telephone and prophesying over them. She would tell them that God gave her their telephone number and then would give them words of knowledge. Complete strangers. Then angels started showing up in the church."

The small wedge grew wider and wider. Open mouth, insert hook.

Bob Jones had also had repeated visitations by the angel Emma in the 1980s. Bob Jones said, "Emma was the angel that helped birth and start the whole prophetic movement in Kansas City in the 1980s. She was a mothering-type angel that helped nurture the prophetic. She glided into the room, emitting brilliant light and colors. Emma carried these bags and began pulling gold out of them. Then, as she walked up and down the aisles of the church, she began putting gold dust on people."

Now that's quite a quote from Bentley and Jones, don't you agree?

In 1997, Bob Jones prophesied that an earthquake would destroy Los Angeles and that terrorists with nuclear bombs would also attack the city. He told Christians to flee Los Angeles. We know that the Bible teaches if a man proclaiming to be a prophet of God is wrong one time, then they are a false prophet.

Sid Roth's television show, "It's Supernatural", is a big time supporter and promoter of everything having to do with the Toronto Blessing / New Age Christian Movement. He has had many of the movers and shakers of the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement as guest speakers on his show, promotes their books and DVDs, and has repeatedly given his endorsement of all that they teach and do. You can go to Sid Roth's website and download transcripts of the interviews with these Toronto Blessing leaders. Sid Roth essentially sets himself up as a heavy promoter of the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement.

Once the newsletter for the charismatic movement, Charisma Magazine has completely sold out to the New Age Christian Movement and they heavily promote it and its teachers. The Charisma Magazine is absolutely positively without a doubt a New Age Christian magazine.

I ran several of the top names within the New Age Christian Movement with the site command, and the top names all come up hundreds and even thousands of pages for the Charisma magazine website.

Again, here's that site command, so you can see for yourself:

"Todd Bentley" site:www.charismamag.com

We see that Todd Bentley is mention on more than 1,370 pages within the Charisma magazine website. That's all the proof I need. We've gone into extensive detail exposing Todd Bentley. Any magazine that gives such an extreme false prophet so much free press is not a magazine we want to be reading, nor associating with those who give any form of support to this magazine.

Still doubting? Use the Google site command, and run the list of names of other top leaders within the New Age Christian Movement and you'll see for yourself. Here's the list of names in the next section. You'll see just about everyone on this list is mentioned on several hundred pages within the Charisma.com website. Solid proof that they've gone to the dark side and become a magazine just to promote New Age Christians.

TOP NAMES AND LEADERS WITHIN THE NEW AGE CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT.

Here is a list of some of the top names within the movement. It's a good idea to learn these names, so that you can recognize them should you get invited to a conference they are speaking at. You will overhear one of these names in a conversation, and you will realize the person attempting to recruit you is a New Age Christian with the Toronto Blessing.

THEY SAY, “COME AND TRY IT! JUST EXPERIENCE IT!”

If the person recruiting you is using this old line on you, then run from that person. That faulty logic is the oldest one in Satan’s playbook. Think back to the Garden of Eden. Satan used that ploy on Adam and Eve and triggered the fall of mankind.

New Age Christian recruiters will use this quite often. It is a very effective ploy for them, and they have seen a lot of success in convincing a person to “just come out to a meeting and see if you like it. Just experience it and let me know what you think.”

If you feel tempted to be swayed by such logic, let me ask you this. If someone approached you and invited you to come out for the evening and join them for some fun at a “cocaine party”, would you do it? Hopefully not! Well, what if they said, “Just try it and let me know what you think?” Would you be persuaded? Hopefully not!

Or, how about if the local Wiccan witch invited you out to an introductory meeting, with the same approach. “Just try it and let me know what you think.” Would you go? Hopefully you’d have the good sense to run in the other direction.

But, yet, many Christians fall for this strategy, and they go out to a few of the meetings. In fact, quite a large number of the people who are now active with the New Age Christian Movement were brought in with this tactic of “just come and experience one meeting”. Satan likes this approach and will use it frequently. Don’t fall for it.

One Toronto Blessing evangelist, Caleb Brundidge, says, “You don’t have to study the Word of God. You just have to come and experience God. We all become one on the cellular level.” Contrast that with 2 Timothy 2:15, which states, “Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.” Of course these false prophets will say you don’t have to study the Word of God, because it is the Word of God that exposes their heresy and lies.

WHO IS BEING GLORIFIED? WHO IS BEING PUT ON THE THRONE?

In using this approach as a tool for discernment, what you need to do is step back, and take a bird's eye view of the recruitment process that your "friend" has been laying on you. Ask yourself, "In all of these conversations, who would I say is being glorified? Who is being put on the throne?"

In all New Age doctrines and occult schools, it is the human being that is being glorified.

Please note that it is very, very subtle. You might not even recognize it at first.

You might hear something like this, "I was praying for you last week, and I believe the Lord gave me a special word just for you." They use that line quite a lot.

If you are being told that you are "chosen" or you are "special" or that you are "set apart", then you know that your ego is being stroked. It is a more advanced manipulation technique that is used by cult groups of all kinds.

You have to really listen for it, and be sensitive and aware, in order to recognize it when it occurs. More often than not, it slips right by us.

Remember the three categories of Christians I mentioned at the beginning? The third category of Christians who can pick up and discern that something is afoot are those Christians who have been trained in the Lord to be one who is broken, who has a humble spirit, who walks in a spirit of humility. Rare these days in our culture, I know, but they are out there.

Such folks with a humble spirit seem to really pick up on the fact that teachers and recruiters active within the Toronto Blessing are always looking to flatter the human ego.

If you see this happening, then add this to your list of red flags, and be on the look out for some of the other indicators.

OBSCURE BIBLE PASSAGES TO SUPPORT AN ODD TEACHING

You'll see an obscure Bible passage being used to justify something strange or odd. This is one red flag that almost all cults have in common. The Bible passage they are throwing at you does not seem to quite fit. They are twisting the words and the meaning to support the concept they are trying to sell you.

These New Age Christian activists will dig up some very obscure Bible passage, and then develop an elaborate doctrinal system that might revolve around just one or two sentences they found.

At first their logic might seem to be a stretch but yet fairly reasonable, and it might make sense on some level. But the more you listen to it, you get a little odd feeling in your gut and you see them going down the twisted rabbit hole and coming to a final conclusion based on a very unsteady foundation of logic.

Or it can be almost like they've made up a whole religion of sorts based on one sentence that they dug up. The final outcome of their logic will often have quite a large gap to jump.

Often, too, there are generally sandwiched within 3 or 4 stepping stones in their logic that have no Bible basis whatsoever. Attorneys call this "meritless conclusions of law" and a good lawyer can destroy their opponent's case when they see their adversary building upon one faulty conclusion after another.

I had to laugh at this one. One New Age Christian showed me a picture of herself with a bunch of glowing orbs all around her. She said these orbs were angelic beings. I told her I can show her a prominent witchcraft website and they have pictures of orbs, but at least they are willing to admit that the orbs are demonic spirits (www.cassadaga.org).

"You can't both be right", I said. She hit me with 2 Kings 6:17, where Elisha prayed for his servant to have his eyes opened, and the servant could then see chariots of fire around Elisha. This, she said, was what we would call orbs.

SMUG ARROGANCE AND CUTTING SARCASM

This indicator is kind of peculiar, yet definitely is a pattern common among many recruiters within the New Age Christian Movement. Over the years, I have observed first hand that when a follower or recruiter active with the New Age Christian Movement gets cornered by Scripture passages, their pleasant and happy disposition changes radically. They suddenly become intensely vicious and cutting. That false face of piety drops super fast and they lash out with a tirade of verbal insults.

In a sad way, it can be somewhat amusing. I mean, they go to such great lengths telling you about this new outpouring of the power of God being demonstrated with amazing miracles, signs and wonders. A new dimension of living on the mountain top with God. Then, after a bit of back and forth, you decide to confront them with a few innocent Bible passages, just casually questioning a few things they said.

Then, suddenly, without warning, you have a vicious snarling demon on your hands, yelling all kinds of things at you, and maybe even making threats. You get surprised and shocked by the things that they are saying to you. Any time you have someone recruiting you into something who displays such mood swings of any nature should be a red flag and a serious concern.

When the person involved is active with the New Age Christian Movement, the outbursts will generally come when you start listing some Bible passages that are contrary to the nonsense they are trying to feed you. Watch and see. I remember confronting a Pastor who was sending out emails to several dozen other churches, trying to recruit them into attending New Age Christian meetings. When confronted with Bible passages, this mild mannered Pastor became a raving lunatic, spewing all kinds of insults and threats. It was quite a show.

Even aside from witnessing such an outburst when cornered, I am of the opinion that many of these folks have an underlying layer of cockiness, sarcasm and arrogance that they all seem to have in common. I've picked up on this fairly frequently in conversations with New Age Christian followers and leaders.

The more advanced ones seem better at hiding it, but you can still feel it among many of them. Sometimes you see evidence of it in everyday conversations that reflect how they view the world around them, and the people in their lives. If you are someone who came out of the occult when you became a Christian, you'll likely remember that same type of smug arrogance among occult leaders.

HEALING ROOMS AND THE HEALING MINISTRY

If you are sick, or have some kind of health ailment, you are naturally going to be prone and vulnerable to this one. There is a huge network of New Age Christian people that are part of an organization called “The Healing Rooms”. Their website is www.HealingRooms.com

Google the term “healing rooms” and you’ll see they are all over the United States. They don’t stick to just one denomination. You’ll see them planted in churches that are from various denominations.

I remember the Healing Rooms from more than 15 years ago. I suspect they started out as a genuine and sincere Christian ministry. But, several years back, their higher up officers and administrators were swept into the New Age Christian Movement.

Since that time, it flowed downward from the regional national leadership, to all of the leadership of the local chapters. I’m fairly convinced that every single chapter is now an active participant in the New Age Christian Movement. In fact, I’d be quite shocked to find one that is not.

What the Healing Rooms organization attempts to do is approach a church pastor, offering to come in and provide training in a “non-denominational” healing ministry. The training is free, or very low cost.

For the Pastor that is struggling with adversity, this seems too good to be true. He bites the bait on the hook, and he goes for it. A volunteer within the church steps forward and offers to run this new ministry.

It all seems great. Within a few weeks, the Pastor is receiving printed documentation that shows that it is effective and people are being healed.

It all looks great.

Few Pastors will take the time to explore and validate. They have let down their guard, and allowed a gigantic Trojan horse to roll right through the front door.

Little do they realize that the enemy is hiding within that Trojan horse. They allow the lay volunteer leader to continue on, and probably encourage them to keep up the good work. It looks like a win-win for everybody involved.

Ah, but, now the infiltration begins. First the leader becomes indoctrinated. They have an overseer who works with them, and gradually brings them into the deeper teachings of “healing ministry”. It is often a very, very slow and gradual process that might take place over 6 months to 18 months.

As mentioned earlier, demons are very happy to provide healings, miracles, signs and wonders in exchange for your soul. Demons can and do heal people. Witch doctors use demons to heal people. Edgar Cayce used demons to heal more than 3,000 people.

The Healing Rooms ministry is prominently displayed on the Elijah List website. You should always question anyone or any group that is enthusiastically endorsed on the Elijah List site.

THEY SAY “THOSE FOLKS AREN’T READY FOR THIS! THEY’RE BOUND BY FEAR!”

The New Age Christian that is recruiting you might caution you not to share these new ideas and other new things with your family or other church members. They’ll quietly advise you that “some Christians aren’t ready for this yet. Some Christians are bound by fear and not ready to receive these deeper secrets of God!” It is much more likely that the group of people they are worried about is more discerning, and they are worried someone in that group will point out the flaws of what is being pitched.

Again, there is that very subtle implication that YOU are now S-P-E-C-I-A-L. The others are not ready for this next step in your spiritual walk, but you are. They are not ready for the awakening, but you are. God has been preparing you for this new level of divine understanding, but they are just not quite yet ready for everything that you are going to experience. Your frail human ego is being stroked. Others aren’t ready for this ancient wisdom, but you are ready for it. You are chosen. You are special. You have a calling. Stroke after stroke. They explain that “some stagnant Christians” might not “be ready” for accepting some of the deeper wisdom and deeper truths that “God is calling you to”. More strokes to your ego. Such terminology being used on you is a very strong indicator that your recruiter is active with the New Age Christian Movement.

They view themselves as special recipients of power from God, and that the dying church of today lives in fear of the supernatural. These are the words that literally come from their mouths as they try to explain away why some of those Bible thumping churches are refusing them entry into their churches. “Oh, they are just responding in fear to things they don’t understand or aren’t ready for.”

YOU SEE OCCULT SYMBOLS AND OCCULT JEWELRY LYING AROUND

One powerful New Age Christian recruiter that was successfully invading a big church in the South Jersey area had her home full of occult symbols. When I confronted her that these symbols in her home were demonic, she began ranting and cursing. (And just the week before she seemed so angelic as she was teaching several of the church's volunteer prayer intercessors about the benefits of listening to drumming tapes as a tool for getting closer to God.)

Her defense of a house full of occult symbols was that she had been working as an intern at the headquarters for the Healing Rooms in Spokane, Washington and the national director had an office full of these very same occult symbols. Imagine that. Why am I not surprised by that?

When I pointed out the root of all of this symbology, it was clearly a waste of time and energy. "No", she said, "these symbols are all describing the essence of God. The devil took these symbols and has perverted them. Like the rainbow. God used the symbol of the rainbow in the Bible. But now the homosexuals are using the symbol as their identifying mark. That's an example of God using things, and then the devil stealing those things and perverting them. I'm just using the power of these symbols in the way that God originally intended them to be used. These symbols contain eternal truth." Oh, goodness. It was like talking to a brick wall. Brainwashed.

THEY DEFEND THEIR MINISTRY SAYING “SATAN CANNOT CAST OUT SATAN”

One thing that all of the New Agers all had in common back when I was heavily involved with the occult is that they all somehow managed to find a Bible scripture that supports what they are doing or teaching. All of the New Agers in my day knew Psalm 82:6 and John 10:34, “I have said you are gods”. That is one of the fundamental beliefs that human beings have divinity within them all, and that we all have the potential within evolution to awaken our hidden powers buried within and manifest our godhood. They stand on those two scriptures as support of their misguided belief system. If you pushed them hard, they rarely knew any other Bible passages, such as John 3:16. They never seem to know that one. But, yes, they all knew those two scriptures.

In a similar manner, all of the New Age Christians all know Matthew 12:26 and they claim this is Jesus saying that it is impossible for the devil to kick out lower ranking demons. They are mixing apples and oranges. In fact, I've only heard New Age Christians using this line on me. Someone just used this one on me two weeks ago, and I already knew he was a New Age Christian when I visited his church several years back. If someone is saying this to you, chances are high that they are a New Age Christian.

Those who peddle Essential Oils always have a few scriptures to back it up. They rarely know much else of the Bible, but they know those few passages inside out. The astrologers always are quick to point out that the wise men who came to visit Jesus were astrologers. Those occultists who practice astral projection are quick to point out that both Paul and John had traveled in the spirit. All of the New Agers always have scriptures that seem to back up what they do. Most cults do this, as well. Name any cult in the world, and they probably have several Bible passages that seem to back up their twisted doctrines.

What are the New Age Christians referring to here? The New Age Christian Movement is known for signs and wonders, prophesy, healings, and kicking out demons. (Same list that Jesus gives us in Matthew 7:21-23). As proof that they have a legitimate ministry endorsed by God, they point out that they have the power to kick out demons. They point out that it was Jesus who said that Satan cannot kick out Satan (Matthew 12:26, Luke 11:18, Mark 3:23).

First, Jesus is not saying that this is a rule imposed by Heaven among Satan and his army of demons. He is not saying that Satan is forbidden or unable to cast out other demons. We know they have a hierarchy. A more powerful demon higher up in the ranks will do anything he wishes to do among lower level demons.

If they decide to trick you, the lower level one might even put up a good show, screaming and thrashing about. It all makes for good drama that can be very convincing. Plus, if the doorway that gave them legal right to enter in the first place remains there, who is to say that the demon who leaves won't just come back in several weeks or a few months later? They are cool with that.

Secondly, in Jesus' day, Satan was working hard to establish his kingdom on earth, and build up his own massive army of followers. His strategy in that day was to build, recruit and reinforce. Today is different. Today Satan knows he has a short time left, and he is going all out full force. Satan is doing things today that he could not do a decade or two ago. Now we have an occult revival spreading into the church with rapid speed.

Today Satan will gladly sacrifice smaller level demons to gain a foothold in the church. If he sends you a spirit of disease, and then later that spirit of disease is kicked out by a New Age Christian leader, now you seem to have a bonafide miracle worker on your hands. A very convincing ploy, don't you agree? If he kicks out 1,000 lower level demons, but gains 10,000 followers who are stunned and amazed, that's a terrific gambit. Think in terms of playing chess. You sacrifice a few low level pawns in order to gain pieces of higher value.

An Army veteran was telling me the story of how Al Qaeda had done something similar. They sent in a Trojan horse, a high ranking Al Qaeda agent who claimed he wanted to seek asylum in the United States. He said in trade for asylum, he would give the names of the top dozen Al Qaeda operatives in that region of the world. Sure enough, he did. The intelligence operators were convinced that the Trojan horse was sincere, and the United States agreed to grant him asylum.

When word was passed along that they would fly him to the United States when ready, he asked to meet the top CIA officers so he could thank them personally. We agreed. The day he was picked up to meet them, he had underneath of his robes a vest that contained a dozen powerful explosives. The Trojan horse was a suicide bomber who took out over a dozen top CIA officials stationed in that part of the world.

If Al Qaeda is having success with this gambit, and is willing to sacrifice the small fry in order to gain a bigger win, don't you agree that Satan would be more than happy to do the same thing to gain a foothold into our churches? Of course he would. As if watching a movie of spy vs. spy, there are even New Age Christians who pose as exposers of other New Age Christians. Meaning, they pretend they are out there exposing the false New Age Christian Church, yet they themselves are indeed New Age Christians. All very clever subterfuge designed to entice the believer into following them into that infernal pit.

In closing, I would have to say that I feel this New Age Christian Movement is going to grow more and more, and pick up greater speed as it spreads from one church to the next. Jesus did warn us that in the last days there would be a great falling away of Christian believers. It was held back and prevented until these Last Days. If it were not held back, it would have swept through the entire church by now and demolished it. Keep your church watchmen alert at the gates. Do not allow your church to fall asleep. Yes, this is all happening now in front of our eyes. But it does not have to happen at your church. Stay inoculated.

Blessings in Christ,

ASSESSMENT CHECKLIST

Every cult in the entire world has its own terminology and buzz words. For example, if you were in a diner having lunch and sat next to a table of Jehovah's Witnesses, you would pick up on this fact by hearing some of the buzz words and terminology that they are known for. The same is true for every cult in the world. The Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement is the same way. They have buzz words and terminology that they are known for.

Use this like a Geiger counter in assessing whether an evangelist is actually a New Age Christian seeking to infiltrate and sneak witchcraft your church. In preparing this checklist, the goal is to attach a weight system to each occurrence. Reason being that some pastors might use a word such as 'impartation' just one single time in the context of teaching. But if you hear it several times, or with several other TB buzzwords, then you know this is weighing heavier and more likely the speaker is with the Toronto Blessing Prophetic Movement.
